League Embargo Against Italy On Key Products

Economic Sanctions Committee Recommends Nations Stop the Flow of Materials Used in Munitions

New Financial Sanctions Moves

Associated Press
Geneva, Oct. 15.—The League of Nations' sub-committee for economic sanctions decided in principle to-day to recommend an embargo against the shipment into Italy of "key" products—materials used in the manufacture of war munitions.

The committee then proceeded to draw up a specific list of products, which Premier Mussolini must have if he is to continue the manufacture of armaments and supplies for his forces in east Africa.

The tentative list includes: Aluminum, zinc, copper, nickel, tin, coal, wool, manganese and gasoline.

ARTICLES OF TRADE

Experts armed with voluminous masses of statistics laid bare arteries of world trade with Italy and examined into the possibilities of applying sanctions to stop the flow of that trade.

Meanwhile a subcommittee of military experts examined President Roosevelt's list of implements of war and decided to change a few details in definitions of specific arms mentioned in the list on which the United States has placed an embargo against both Italy and Ethiopia.

At the same time, the League undertook the first practical organization of financial sanctions.

NIGHT ATTACK IS DESCRIBED

Aged Saanich Woman and Sister Tell of Violence Used by Robbers

The brutal and cowardly attack of two men upon two aged women, both over seventy years of age, on the night of April 24 last, was recalled in the Saanich police court this morning during the preliminary hearing of William Baker, Sims Avenue, Saanich, charged with robbery with violence. The offence is punishable by life imprisonment with lashes.

The elderly woman, Mrs. Margaret Scott, seventy-one, 119 Sims Avenue, and her sister, Mrs. Isabelle Ramsay, seventy-three, of Calgary, both told the court of the beatings they had

He called for "simultaneous action of many countries" for:

A "vigorous rebuilding of international trade";

A "gradual restoration of international monetary stability";

ETHIOPIANS MOVE TO FRONT LINE POSTS

In the Radow Hills near Walwal, the Ethiopian army is putting up its first vigorous defence against Italian forces attacking from the southwest. In the above picture, taken by H. V. Drees, NEA Service staff cameraman, the first photographer to reach the perilous Ogaden front, and rushed to North America by courier, plane and radio, a column of infantry is shown taking its position along the crest of one of the hills that dominates the invaded area.

TAYLOR GETS GOOD MARGIN

C. H. Dickie Loses Nanaimo Seat After Fourteen Years in House

With substantial majorities in the large centres of Nanaimo and Ladysmith and general support all over the riding, J. S. Taylor, the C.C.F. candidate, captured Nanaimo constituency with a good margin in yesterday's federal polling.

Mr. Taylor defeated the former member, C. H. Dickie, seventy-seven-year-old Conservative veteran of the House of Commons, and Alan Chambers, Liberal, the youngest candidate in Western Canada. Mr. Taylor held a slight lead at all times. Aubrey M. Clark, the Reconstruction Party candidate, was never in the picture and will lose his deposit.

Mr. Dickie had held the seat since 1921.

With four scattered polls still to report, the standing as reported by the Canadian Press was as follows:

Taylor, C.C.F., 6,836; Dickie, Conservative, 6,120; Chambers, Liberal, 6,157; and Clark, Reconstruction, 556.

While the remaining returns are not likely to alter the winner's position, there is a margin of only thirty-seven between Mr. Dickie and Mr. Chambers which might change.

Returns by polling stations indicated a general swing to Socialist

STONED WORKER MAY LOSE SIGHT

Vancouver, Oct. 15.—Fear that Stewart McKenzie, waterfront worker, may be blinded completely as the result of being stoned by alleged longshore strike sympathizers yesterday, was expressed to-day.

Police stated his spectacles had been broken and particles of glass cut the ball of his right eye. His left eye had been affected some time ago and if he were to lose the sight of his right eye he would be practically blind.

With Largest Following In Commons History King Will Form Cabinet

Victory of Liberals at Polls Is Greatest of Any Party Since Confederation; With Only Four Constituencies in Doubtful Column, Liberals-elect Total 166, and They Will Be Supported by Six Independent-Liberals and Liberal-Progressives in Quebec and Manitoba; Conservative Total Is Forty-one

Early Change Of Administration HAS WIDE CHOICE FOR NEW CABINET

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Oct. 15.—With the largest following any leader has had in the House of Commons since Confederation, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King will proceed at once to select his cabinet.

The government of Premier R. B. Bennett, if it follows the practice of the past, will be prepared to step out whenever the new ministry is ready to take over. It usually takes longer for a leader to form a cabinet than for the old government to wind up its business.

Ten of the ministers who were in Mr. King's cabinet in 1930 were re-elected yesterday.

Those re-elected are: Hon. Ian MacKenzie, Hon. Peter Veniot, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Hon. P. J. A. Caudin, Hon. Fernand Rinfret, Hon. Lucien Carron, Hon. W. D. Euler, Hon. J. C. Elliott, Hon. W. R. Motherwell and Hon. T. A. Crerar. Those in the 1930 cabinet who did not seek re-election were: Hon. Charles A. Dunning, Hon. J. L. Ralston, Hon. James Malcolm and Hon. Peter Heenan. Two members are in the Senate: Raoul Dandurand and Dr. J. H. King.

The new government will have supporters from every province, although its representation from Alberta will be small. However, it is improved from 1921, when no Liberals were elected

Liberal Leader Thanks Voters

Election Result Is Victory for Democracy, Says Mackenzie King

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—"I thank the people of Canada for the confidence they have expressed in Liberal principles and policies, in the Liberal Party and in myself as its leader," said Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King in a statement on the result of yesterday's general election.

"The Liberal Party has again placed its trust in the people. The people have reciprocated that trust in abundant measure. It will not be betrayed."

"I congratulate the members of the Liberal Party on the splendid campaign they waged. We were attacked on all sides, and we won on all fronts. The overwhelming victory

B.C. VOTES FIVE WAYS

Defeat of Mayor McGeer by C.C.F. Features Results in This Province

British Columbia split its allegiance five ways in yesterday's elections, sending to the House of Commons five Conservatives; four Liberals; four Co-operative Commonwealth Federation candidates; one of the Reconstruction Party, and one Independent. A. W. Neill, of Comox-Alberni, Liberals, have a substantial lead in a fifth seat, Cariboo.

Kootenay East elected the leader of the Reconstruction Party, Hon. H. H. Stevens, who sat for the same seat in the last House as a Conservative, winning it in a by-election after he was defeated in Vancouver Centre in 1930.

Hon. Grote Stirling, Minister of National Defence, was elected in Yale which has supported him since a by-election in 1924.

Hon. Ian MacKenzie, Minister of Immigration in the last Mackenzie King cabinet, was re-elected in Vancouver Centre, with a majority of less than 200 over W. W. Lefaux, C.C.F. The final figures this afternoon were: MacKenzie (L.), 1,063; Lefaux (C.C.F.), 7,504; Sherwood (C.), 3,292; Mahon (R.), 1,955; Taylor (S.C.), 248.

McGEER FINALLY DOWN

The contest which stole the spotlight in British Columbia was that in Vancouver-Burrard, where, unless the opening of the ballot boxes on October 25 reverses the decision, Arnold Webster, C.C.F., defeated G. G. McGeer, M.C. of Vancouver, Liberal, by ninety votes. The revised count at noon to-day gave Webster 10,282; McGeer, 10,192; McDonnell (C.), 5,238; Turnbull (R.), 1,850; Tuttle (S.C.), 540.

lows: Frank Blair, Chapleau, Lapointe, Montpetit-Matane; W. J. Munton, Montreal-St. Ann.; and W. Gariepy, Three Rivers, and two elected as Liberal-Progressives in Manitoba, namely: W. G. Weir, MacDonald, and J. T. Thomson, Selkirk.

WENT DOWN IN CRASH

HON. ROBERT WEIR

Minister of Agriculture in the Bennett government, was one of the twelve cabinet ministers who went down in the fall of the Conservative regime. He was defeated in Melfort, Sask.

In the gizzard of a chicken she was dressing for dinner, an Oseola, Neb., woman found twenty-one pieces of hardware, including a tire valve cap, a shingle nail, four screws, three curtain fasteners, a tack, two rivets and a battery terminal.

GAIN SEEN FOR DEMOCRACY

London Star Gives Opinion on Canadian Election; Londoners Get News

By THOMAS T. CHAMPION
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, Oct. 15.—"Canada has called in the spirit of the New World to redress the lack of liberty in the old," declares to-night's Star, commenting on the Canadian general elections. "All parties must be surprised at the result, which places the Liberals well ahead of all others combined, except that it is impossible to see how they ever can combine. The details may not be clear to us, but there can be no mistake it stands for greater freedom of trade, lower tariffs and a less grasping spirit in trade dealings with Great Britain. It is in fact a denial of the spirit of the Ottawa Conference. Democracy is all the better for to-day's tonic from the west."

Several morning papers published late edition news service from Canada. The main details were known in business quarters before most men reached their offices. "Liberal Landslide" was a favorite streamer. Others were: "MacKenzie King Gains All Along the Line," "Electoral Tidal Wave," "Liberals Sweep Board."

DEATH CAUSED BY FALL

London, Ont., Oct. 15 (Canadian Press).—The death of George R. Bennett, a member of the Royal Canadian Regiment, was accidental, police announced yesterday evening, stating an investigation showed he fell from a brick wall at Wolsley Barracks and suffered fatal head injuries. Early reports of the finding of the body in his bed indicated he had met with violence.

Talk Ethiopia Oil Concession

Canadian Press from Havas
London, Oct. 15.—Plans for working the great Ethiopian oil concession obtained by Francis M. Rickett are being pushed despite the Italo-Ethiopian war. Havas learned here yesterday from a source in close touch with the negotiations.

British, French and Italian representatives discussed the matter at length last week in Geneva, it was learned here.

The plans for exploitation of the concession, obtained by Mr. Rickett for United States interests and subsequently cancelled by them at the request of the United States Department of State, have gone so far as to include choice of the key men of the organization.

Despite the cancellation by the United States interests, the concession is valid, it is maintained here, and use will be made of it as soon as normal conditions are restored in Ethiopia.

U.S. PLANS TO BUILD WARSHIPS

Associated Press
Washington, Oct. 15.—Construction of one battleship, twelve destroyers and six submarines and an expansion of the enlisted strength of the United States navy to 100,000 men were disclosed at the department yesterday as in contemplation for the 1937 fiscal year.

Under the London Naval Treaty, which will expire January 1, 1937, battleships may not be constructed. Officials said it was hoped to construct a battleship in 1937 after January 1.

The important archaeological find was made by a Palestinian woman, Judith Krause Marquet, whose work was originally financed by the late Baron Edmond de Rothschild of Paris, and which is now being continued by the French National Museum.

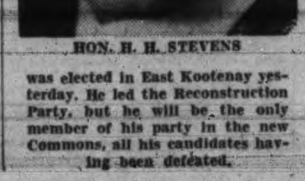

Found in the temple were fragments of oblations with unique patterns peculiar to the Early Bronze Age. Complete fortifications of the structure were also uncovered, and reveal the building was destroyed about 2,000 B.C.

London, Oct. 15.—An order for a giant telescope to be installed on a mountain top near Pretoria, South Africa, was received by a Newcastle firm yesterday.

The telescope will be similar in general dimension to the largest ever constructed in the British Empire, that recently built for the Toronto Observatory.

Its lens will be 73.62 inches in diameter and the total cost will be $24,000 ($120,000).

CHEF SENT TO COMMONS SEAT

J. Landeryou, Social Credit, Will Represent Calgary East

Canadian Press
Calgary, Oct. 15.—Chefs in the parliamentary restaurant in Ottawa will have to watch their step.

An expert will be in the House of Commons next session. He is John Landeryou, Social Credit candidate elected in Calgary East.

Mr. Landeryou is a chef by profession. In fact, he has been a "head chef" for some of the biggest restaurants in Calgary.

After quitting a well-paying job in protest against working conditions, less than a year ago, he worked in a smaller restaurant for $15 a week. A year ago he joined Premier Aberhart's Social Credit League, pioneering the gospel of the new economic plan in Calgary East. For fifteen years he had been a student of socialism and economics.

He is a graduate of the Crescent Heights High School, where Mr. Aberhart, as principal, taught him mathematics.

policies in the Island riding. Even in Saanich where it was expected the old line parties would have the edge, Mr. Taylor held his own being only nine votes behind Mr. Dickie.

Mr. Taylor had a lead of 284 votes in Nanaimo and 245 in Ladysmith, with Mr. Chambers second in both places.

Duncan, as usual, accorded Mr. Dickie strong support with Mr. Chambers second and Mr. Taylor trailing. It was in this section, including Cobble Hill, Shawanigan, Mill Bay and Malahat that Mr. Dickie got most of his majority.

CHAMBERS'S EDGE IN ISLANDS
The Gulf Islands and the logging camps of Cowichan Lake gave Mr. Chambers the edge. In Ganges he polled more than both of his major opponents, and similarly in Salt Spring. The Otter Point Relief Camp and Port Renfrew also gave the Liberal candidate majorities.

Two of the candidate's media statements after the results were made known.

WHAT CANDIDATES SAID
Mr. Taylor said:
"I am told that I have been elected federal member for the Nanaimo riding."

"The contest has been clean, and I express sincere appreciation of the attitude of my friendly opponents."

"I accept the call to this high duty with eager appreciation of the confidence which the electors have shown in the aims of the Co-operative Commonwealth, and an aching sense of the responsibilities which I now assume."

"The movement for economic freedom is real. The people will not be denied. Political slandering is slowly being swept aside. Let us all carry on cheerfully. The goal is sure."

Mr. Chambers said:
"I congratulate Mr. Taylor on his victory, and wish him every success during his tenure of office as representative of Nanaimo riding at Ottawa. Naturally I am disappointed at not being elected, but I am satisfied that during the campaign I conducted a clean fight and made no personal enemies. I wish also to thank my opponents for the fair and tolerant campaign that they waged."

"I am sure that the electors of Nanaimo constituency made their selection upon their evaluation of the national issues confronting them. This is as it should be. I desire to thank my supporters who so loyally worked to secure victory for the principles that I represented, and can assure them that I will continue my best endeavors for the welfare of Vancouver Island."

Following are the detailed figures on the voting by polling stations:

Missionaries In Ethiopia

Canadian Press

London, Oct. 15.—Notwithstanding the fact the British government has advised all Britons and those under British protection to leave Addis Ababa and Dire Dawa in Ethiopia, it is not believed this order applies to missionaries. In the interior of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan there are about twenty-five missionaries from various countries, but in Ethiopia they are mostly Canadians, Australians or New Zealanders. Among the Canadians is Dr. E. R. Hopper, who is in charge of the leprosy unit at Addis Ababa.

The bark of the giant Sequoia is not hard and tough, as might be expected. It is so soft as to be quite spongy, yet fire seems unable to penetrate it, while insects dislike it as much as insect powder. The tree's greatest enemy is man.

H. BOURASSA FAILS AT POLLS

Well-known Quebec Figure Will Not Be in New Commons

Canadian Press
Montreal, Oct. 15.—In perhaps the most amazing turnover in all Canada, Henri Bourassa, leader of the old Quebec Nationalist Party and Independent member of the House of Commons since 1925, was defeated yesterday in Labelle by Maurice Labelle, a Liberal, who entered the field on nomination day. Up to the last minute it had been conceded by both parties that the distinguished former editor of the newspaper Le Devoir, Montreal, would receive an acclamation, as he had in 1930. He received the public support of leading Liberals and Conservatives.

Mr. Bourassa first entered the House of Commons in 1906, representing Labelle. In 1907 he resigned to indicate his position on the constitutional aspect of Canada's participation in the Boer War, contending such participation meant a deep change in Canada's relations with Great Britain, and should be tested at the polls. He was returned in 1900 and 1904. In 1908 he went to the Quebec Legislature and returned to the House of Commons in 1925 as a party of one.

In yesterday's election Mr. Bourassa, while retaining his independent view, had such strong Liberal support he was generally described as an Independent Liberal.

Victorians made the acquaintance of Mr. Bourassa a number of years ago when he addressed the Canadian Club.

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations.

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches; or the pains of rheumatism, neuritis or neuralgia, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with "Aspirin."
We say this because, before the discovery of "Aspirin," most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of "Aspirin" largely changed medical practice.
Countless thousands of people who have taken "Aspirin" year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct.
Remember this: "Aspirin" is rated among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains... and safe for the average person to take regularly.
"Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

THE VOICE OF CANADA

NEVER BEFORE SINCE CONFEDERATION has a federal political party won so sweeping a victory at the polls as that of the Liberals yesterday. Never before has either of the major parties had so many supporters in the House of Commons as the government of Mr. Mackenzie King will have, or so few as Mr. Bennett will have.

In a House of 245 members there will be at least 166 straight Liberals, with four Independent-Liberals two Liberal-Progressives and one Independent, all of whom will invariably vote on the Liberal side. This will aggregate 173 and there are still some seats in doubt. In the last House the Liberals numbered 89.

The Conservatives elected, subject to the seats in doubt, number 41. In the last House they had 133, and their losses therefore reach a total of at least 92. Of these the Liberals up to this writing have taken 79. Hence, the voice of Canada has been heard with terrific volume in its condemnation of Mr. Bennett's record of the last five years and the policies he proposed for another term.

The tidal wave as reported by the press began in the Maritime Provinces, where out of 26 seats the Conservatives won only one, and that by the narrow margin of 33 votes. In Nova Scotia, with 12 and Prince Edward Island with 4, there was a complete Liberal sweep. New Brunswick returned 9 Liberals out of 10. In the last House the Conservatives had 21 and the Liberals 5 in these provinces.

Quebec elected 56 Liberals, and 4 Independent-Liberals who will support Mr. King. In that Province only 5 Conservatives were elected. In the last House there were 25 Conservatives, 38 Liberals, one Independent, with a seat vacant when Parliament was prorogued.

The result in Ontario was a body-blow to the Conservatives, who regarded that province as the backbone of their party strength, and which in fifty years never had voted a Liberal majority. Yesterday the Liberals won 55 seats there, and the Conservatives only 26, the lowest number by far that they ever had from Canada's most populous province. In the last House there were 36 Conservatives and only 24 Liberals.

In Manitoba, out of 16 seats, the Liberals have won 9, Liberal-Progressives 2, Conservatives one, C.C.F. 2, and 2 are doubtful. In the last House there were 11 Conservatives 3 Liberal-Progressives, 2 Labor and only one Liberal.

In Saskatchewan, out of 21 seats the Liberals have won 16, the Conservatives one, Social Credit 2, C.C.F. one, and there is one in doubt. In the last House there were 7 Conservatives, 12 Liberals, one Liberal-Progressive and one Independent. The result in Manitoba and Saskatchewan is especially significant in the light of Mr. Bennett's desperate effort to win the farmers' votes by his wheat policy and the issue to them of payments on their product before it had been sold.

Alberta was swept by the Social Credit Party, which captured 15 out of the 17 seats, leaving one Liberal and one Conservative. The Social Credit group has knocked off the political federal political stage the United Farmer representation which in the last House numbered 9. Conservatives had 5 and the Liberals 2 when Parliament was prorogued. The only Conservative returned yesterday was Mr. Bennett, who was elected in Calgary.

British Columbia returned 4 straight Liberals, 5 Conservatives, 4 C.C.F.s, one Reconstructionist, one Independent, Mr. Neill, who has invariably given his support to Mr. King, and there is one seat in doubt. In the last House there were 7 Conservatives, 5 Liberals, one Independent-Labor and one Independent—the latter also being Mr. Neill. The lone Reconstructionist is Mr. H. H. Stevens. Hon. Ian Mackenzie, who was a member of Mr. King's last ministry was elected in Vancouver Centre. In the Yukon the victory was won by Mrs. Black, Independent-Conservative. Mr. Plunkett holds Victoria, and Mr. Taylor, C.C.F. won Nanaimo.

Twelve cabinet ministers out of nineteen were defeated, while incomplete returns show that the Conservative total vote dropped by more than 900,000. The ministerial casualties included such prominent figures as Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals; Hon. Wesley Gordon, Hon. Donald Sutherland and Hon. Robert Weir. All of the ministers from Quebec but two lost their seats.

A significant feature of the election, but one which was not surprising to students of Canadian politics, was the poor showing made by the third and fourth parties in the number of seats captured. Subject to the ridings still in doubt, the C.C.F., with 118 candidates, won only 7 seats, four of which were in this province. East of the Great Lakes they were not a factor. The Social Credit group flushed with their provincial victory in Alberta, gained their 17 in that province and Saskatchewan. The Reconstructionists, out of 174 candidates, won only one seat, Mr. Stevens capturing East Kootenay from Hon. Randolph Bruce. Mr. Stevens thus has the dubious satisfaction of leading a party composed entirely of himself. These parties will largely disappear from the federal arena within the next few years—going the way of the numerous other similar irruptions which have marked the history of federal Canadian politics.

Canadian electors, therefore, have very emphatically set their seal of approval upon Mr. Mackenzie King's appeal for a strong stable government independent of the support of conflicting groups. Their mandate has been so sweeping that the Senate, two-thirds of whose membership are Conservatives, will have to watch its step in its reception of legislation which goes to it with the approval of more than 170 members of an elected House of 245. If the majority should attempt to obstruct or mulish such measures, it would find itself confronted with an outcry of public indignation which would place its very existence in jeopardy.

MR. KING'S MANDATE

NO CANADIAN PRIME MINISTER HAS assumed office with a fuller sense of the great responsibility devolving upon him than Mr. Mackenzie King. He has been leader of a federal government for nine years. He realizes the formidable nature of the task before him and the heavy strain his administration will impose upon him and his colleagues. But, unlike Mr. Bennett, he will not attempt to do all the work himself. He will delegate a proper share of it to his colleagues, while Parliament, whose supremacy will be re-established will have to do its part. Instead of the energy and ability of one man, the collective resources of the entire ministry and members of Parliament will be drawn upon, as they should be.

Mr. King, of course, will interpret the tremendous landslide yesterday as the unreserved approval of his policies by the Canadian electorate. This means that there will be a complete mobilization of the country's resources to deal with unemployment. The present sky-high protective tariff will give way to one that is infinitely lower. Trade treaties will be negotiated with other countries, especially reciprocity with the United States. The Ottawa trade pact will be modified in such a way as to provide for a generous extension of the British preference. The Bank of Canada will be nationalized. The numerous so-called reform measures introduced by Mr. Bennett in the fifth year of his term will be thoroughly overhauled and those which are found unworkable or unconstitutional will be thrown overboard. The election laws will be tightened to prevent intimidation by employers. All these have been promised by Mr. King and his pledges will be fulfilled.

TWO SIGNIFICANT SPEECHES

FROM THE NATIONAL CAPITAL OF the United States this morning there came over the air long before many Victorians had taken their ablutions the voices of two prominent statesmen of the neighboring republic. Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State in the Roosevelt government, and Mr. Norman H. Davis, a Democrat with a wide diplomatic experience, were the speakers whose voices the people of Victoria heard—those who were up in time.

Both Mr. Hull and Mr. Davis confined themselves to the relationship of international friendship with the free flow of trade and commerce between nation and nation. The two speakers emphasized the fact—and they did not over-emphasize it—that when nations try to stifle trade in the fallacious belief that it is a simple matter for a nation to sell and still simpler for a nation to do little buying, they were economically unwise. Messrs Hull and Davis told the public of this North American continent that the United States does not intend to get itself tangled up in the troubles of other countries in the Old World. But the important point both of them made was that when the nations of the world, after the end of the Great War, began to try to shut themselves up into economic wooden compartments, they, at the same time, touched the smoldering fuse which always seems to be approaching the international powder keg. In other words, economic war, the restriction of trade, ultimately results in human slaughter.

Whether or not Mr. Hull and Mr. Davis, either one or both, based their sentiments on peace and trade to which they gave utterance this morning on what happened in Canada in the general elections yesterday is not known, but their sentiments seem to fit in a most significant form with the expression, at the polls, of the great majority of the Canadian people.

The voice of Canada spoke loudly enough in Canada yesterday to be heard throughout the world and even beyond that in St. James Street, Montreal.

Canada will now bid another farewell to titles, which were restored by Mr. Bennett in the face of several resolutions against them by Parliament. The will of Parliament on this subject again will prevail.

All of the party leaders represent western constituencies. Mr. King was returned in Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, Mr. Bennett in Calgary, Mr. Woodsworth in Winnipeg and Mr. Stevens in British Columbia. Whoever leads the Social Credit will be an Alberta man.

The result yesterday put a final quietus on the talk of a national government; also the campaign for the amalgamation of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways, the latter of which henceforth will be emancipated from the bedevilment to which it has been subjected for the last five years.

A DRINKING PLACE

I know a drinking place that's gay
With music all the live-long day
Where one may stop to quench his thirst
And hear of all God's choirs the first—
The feathered songsters of the trees
Singing exquisite melodies.

With regal majesty and grace
Great trees adorn this drinking place.
A Master Architect has made
A perfect blend of light and shade
And splashed on ceiling and the wall
The lovely colorings of the fall.

This is no smoke-filled drinking spot
Made famous by the noisy rot,
But by the breeze conditioned well
For all who seek a resting spell:
A drinking place, from which man goes
Refreshed, as from a night's repose.

This drinking place, at which I stay,
Stands on the golf course where I play.
No half-solled waiters jostle round;
Or clinking glass there's not a sound.
'Tis just a fount of water cold
Set in an aisle of green and gold.

Loose Ends

Concerning horse chestnuts and their value at a time like this—Dictators and Silent Men—and anything at all except the election.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

IMPORTANT THINGS

DOUBTLESS you will expect to find in this place to-day some highly intelligent comment on the recent election, at which a pleasant time seems to have been had by all. Instead, I desire to speak of horse chestnuts. After all, anybody can discuss the election with you. No one, indeed, will discuss anything else with you to-day. Every yodel on the street corner, who doesn't know the number of seats in the House of Commons, can explain exactly why the election was the way it did and will insist on explaining so loudly that you will even have difficulty inflicting your own views on him.

Fools can discuss the election to-day. How many people will discuss horse chestnuts? On how many editorial pages throughout the land to-day will you find any discussion of horse chestnuts at all? Vital as they are to the economy of the country, I dare say the newspapers will all overlook horse chestnuts, being distracted by the artificial excitement of a mere ballot. Let everybody rave about politics. We shall consider horse chestnuts.

Not that I have anything original to say about horse chestnuts. I was hoping rather you might have something to offer. I mean, at this time of year, while the rich brown globules are falling down with a jolly thud upon the ground it is the invariable rule of this column to say something about them, just to notice them, as it were, and make them feel they are not being entirely overlooked, merely because there is an election or something of that sort underway.

There is a certain fascination about chestnuts which, I fancy, will endure long after the Parliament elected yesterday has become a memory and a small entry in the more exhaustive history books. What it is, no one can tell me. Perhaps the deliciously smooth feel of them in your hands, the smoothest thing in nature, making a lovely woman's cheek seem almost like sandpaper by comparison, and not nearly so well colored as this rich hue, like old, polished mahogany.

The Chinese of old times, I have been told, used to value jade not just to please the eye, but because they derived a certain sensual joy from merely handling and feeling the texture of it in their hands. We have no jade in this country and very little time for such aesthetic pleasures, but I have noticed that everybody, regardless of his age and degree, will always pick up a chestnut on the road where it has fallen and roll it about in his hands, fondle it and smile sadly to himself. It makes him remember his youth.

To the young the mass collection of chestnuts is a natural passion. Next door the two deacons have collected hundreds of them in apple boxes. They walk miles to find them and know every chestnut tree in the district. You would think by the value they place upon them that each was a nugget of pure gold. And yet there is no conceivable use for horse chestnuts. You cannot eat them.

You cannot sell them. You can do nothing with them except, with pointed matches, make them into absurd little animals and men or, if you can get extra fat ones, into state-memorial or if you put a lot of them into a hot grate fire they will go off like pistol shots and scare visitors to death.

But that is the great virtue of your horse chestnut. There is nothing mercenary about him, nothing of profit and worldly gain. He is desired and respected simply for his very intrinsic virtue, because, somehow, one recognizes in him the full product of the summer's sunshine and growth, a natural jewel which, were it rarer, would be valued with rubies and diamonds than which it is much livelier. Sweet-smooth and round and shiny, is the very spirit of autumn in the palm of your hand, and you like to hold it and feel it while there is still time. The children who collect chestnuts that they cannot use know true values. When they grow up they will lose their native intelligence. They will collect money that they cannot spend.

SILENT MEN

I HAVE SPOKEN thus long about horse chestnuts—probably a record-breaking marathon performance never equaled before—because you are or should be tired of the noise and shouting of the election. After all this talk, many of you are saying to yourselves to-day—if your party was defeated—that what the country needs is a strong silent man to run it. My dentist, who shall be nameless, has been telling me that for a week.

It is his habit to plug my mouth up with a rubber sheet, fastened down on my teeth with clips invented by the torturer-in-chief to the Spanish Inquisition. This not only inflicts upon you all the agony of the Inquisition but makes it impossible for you to utter a sound beyond a muffled gulp and an occasional death rattle. Having got you thus where he wants you, a dentist begins to feel like talking politics and arguing about the problems of the times. He is in a perfect position to argue because all you can say in reply is, "Urk, urk," very faintly, ask you.

Well, standing thus over me and making an extensive excavation in a raw nerve with a sound like an express train my dentist confided to me that he was getting radical and that the country needed a dictator.

"What we need," said he, drilling away with a will, "is a Strong Silent Man to run things. Don't you think so?"

"Urk," I said.

"Democracy is all right in theory," said he, scouring the new crater in my teeth, "but our politicians talk too much."

"Gurk," I said.

"Talk, talk, talk," said he, pouring some prussic acid into the crater and stirring it up. "Just talk, talk, talk. What else do they do but talk, I ask you?"

"Glump," I said.

"What we need is a strong man who won't be afraid to crack down," said he, cracking down with a cold chisel. "No more talk, talk, talk."

"Gurk," I said.

"That's what I say," said he. "If fellows like us would rather together we might be able to stop all this talk, and get some action. We need a dictator who won't talk but act."

"Sturp," I said.

NO HOPE THERE

BUT HE IS WRONG, poor fellow, though I couldn't tell him so. I could only make dull animal sounds, but, when you come to think of it, the strong men of the world aren't silent, are they? That is an old style, which has disappeared completely. To be a first-class dictator now-a-days you keep your fist closed tight, but your mouth always open. No man in history has talked more than Hitler, with Mussolini a close second. By long practice they can keep their mouths open day and night during the entire autumn without a dentist to hold

A BOUQUET

To the Editor:—I would like to take this opportunity of congratulating The Times on the excellent arrangement they made last evening to give the public the results of the election. I know everyone of the hundreds of listeners would like me to thank you on their behalf for such splendid service in establishing the public address system from your office, and your thoughtfulness in giving all Victoria candidates the opportunity of addressing the gathering. Our citizens admire your enterprise.

AL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrh of the Ear, or hard of hearing or have head noises go to your drugist and get 1 ounce of Earsol (double strength), and add to it 4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.
This often brings quick relief from the distressing head noises. Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrh of the Ear or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

OLDEST SURVIVOR OF LUCKNOW HAS EIGHTY-EIGHTH BIRTHDAY TO-DAY

To the ears of C. G. Palmer, Maple Bay Road, Duncan, few tunes hold as strong an appeal as "The Campbells Are Coming." Eighty-eight to-day, Mr. Palmer looks back seventy-seven years to the day with a blazing India sun when the pipers skirted that tune to bring hope to the sore-pressed defenders of Lucknow in the Indian Mutiny. A lad of ten, he was working as an ammunition carrier in that historic centre to which the eyes of the world were turned during the fateful days of the native uprising.

Two years short of being a nonagenarian, Mr. Palmer feels it is nearly time for him to grow old, but he still possesses enough vigor to work in his garden and enjoy the autumn sunshine.

He has been on the island for the last twenty-five years, having come from England in 1910, following a distinguished career as an engineer in India, where he was born, in the Jalandhar, Punjab, on October 15, 1847, the son of General Henry Palmer. At the siege of Lucknow he lost two sisters, as the British suffered from the native onslaughts.

After schooling in England and college in India, Mr. Palmer became an irrigation officer in the northwest provinces. He took two years' leave for his health and went to Australia, not intending to return, but he married there, and this changed his plans.

In 1895 he was promoted superintending engineer of buildings and roads, in which post he was confronted with famine work, and at one time had 777,015 natives under his care. He was the first to use permanganate of potash to control cholera, and was generally so successful that he won the C.I.E.

A Certain Elderly Couple

Travel Where They Will, Winter and Summer

Twenty years ago the husband made a plan—he decided that some day he would quit work—while he was still young enough to enjoy life. Now his dream has come true. He is financially independent—he and his wife are able to come and go as they will—take long trips—then return and do what they please.

Wherever they go they know their Imperial Life Income cheques will follow them.

There are so many ways in which a man and his wife in their later years can enjoy life if there is a moderate income behind them.

What about yourself? Will you be in this happy position when you are 55 or 60? Why not make certain now that you will be? An Imperial Income Protection Policy will guarantee that your dream will not be just a dream, but a fact.

In addition, it will provide financial security for your dependents should you die either before or after your monthly payments begin. Make inquiries now.

The Choice of Wisdom "SALLY TEA"

The BLUE DOOR
by Rachel Mack

"P. S. (Of course there would have to be one.) Do you remember how you turned out the entire neighborhood to look for your Eagle Scout badge? Well, I had stolen it for purely sentimental reasons. I hid it in the old globe in the library. Maybe it's still there. E. C. (unrepentant)."

When she had addressed the envelope she looked through her desk for a stamp, failed to find it, swore softly and lighted a cigarette. Presently she noticed the time, picked up her Italian grammar and sauntered out to her next class.

The letter to John McNeill was to lie on her desk for a few days un-noticed. Until Fate was ready for it.

CHAPTER XI

When Ruth awakened on her second morning in the quiet old Hunter mansion she did so without any feeling of guilt or remorse. Having made her decision to remain, she resolved to enjoy her stay to the fullest. The stage was set for a fortnight which she had every reason to believe would be the happiest of her life.

True, there was the possibility of Elaine Chalmers appearing on the scene, but this was remote. The girl had, of course, invited Penny that she was arriving "in a few weeks." Penny's eyes had hardly deceived her on that point. "I'll be gone," thought Ruth, "with a week or two to spare. I'll have had my little masquerade, and no harm done—unless maybe to my own heart. I'll leave a note behind me, asking forgiveness. And that's all there'll be to that."

That other cloud on the horizon, Penny's "queerness," Ruth dismissed also. Aside from the matter of the blue door, Penny seemed normal and reliable. Ruth had enough natural curiosity to wonder about the old woman's strange regard for her freshly-painted door, but intuition warned her not to pry. Good guests never turn detective.

Someone was whistling on the lawn outside. Ruth hoped she knew who it was.

Wrapping herself in the bathrobe that Penny had lent her, she ventured across the room and peeped out. John McNeill was there, looking up at her window.

He called out ceremoniously: "The McNeills greet the Chalmers-Hunter-Deal heiress and invites her for a buggy ride at 5 this evening."

Ruth clutched the clumsy robe at her neck and drew nearer. "Do they still use buggies in Ohio?" she asked soberly.

"Right-cylinder ones, mostly. Wilst go, fair madd? Or wouldst choose to languish in thy ratty tower?"

Ruth called, "I'll go, of course. But make it a country road. I don't feel like meeting people. I'm here for a rest."

"So that's what you're here for?" John McNeill replied cryptically. "I've been waiting for you to tell me."

"Well," she said, "now you know!" She reached for him, a kiss, and withdrew, her heart pounding foolishly. Presently she heard him drive away.

Ruth, dressing, wished that she had a gift for Penny's seventy-fifth birthday.

"Imagines not being able to buy her anything," she thought regretfully. "Not even narcissus bulbs, like the ones I got Cousin Beale."

Cousin Beale! How unreal she seemed now. Ruth counted back—one, two, three nights ago—the Lawrence had loomed as colossal figures in her life. Cousin Beale's home had sheltered her from the selfish little habits had angered her. Letty's cold-as-steel jealousy had driven her out into the inhospitable streets to seek escape. And now they seemed far away and unimportant, like people in a dream.

"I must write to Cousin Beale," Ruth decided. "She'll worry about me if she doesn't hear." And yet she knew the worry would be mild. In Beale Lawrence's world of fantastic manuscripts, nothing could seem very strange, not even Ruth's impulsive flight.

For a hopeful moment or two Ruth considered asking the Lawrence to send her clothes to her. Then she dismissed the idea, realizing that she must wait until she could receive them under her own name. She thought regretfully of the things she so needed and must do without. How rash she had been to come off in such a trending way!

Ruth went downstairs and, while Penny was bringing her breakfast to the table, went into the drawing-room and raised the lid of the old square piano which she had polished the day before. "Runny her fingers over the tinkling yellow keys she played 'Happy Birthday to You!' and sang it precisely, using Penny's name in the refrain to make it personal."

The old woman came to the door, coffee-pot in hand and beaming with pleasure. "Runny me, Miss Ruth, I remember they used to sing that song at your birthday parties. And now you're singin' it special for me!" Ruth smiled absently as she rose from the piano and kissed the old woman's withered cheek. She said, "We used to sing it at Sunday school too, Penny." She was thinking of the last time she had heard it. The children in her Sunday school class had sung it on her twelfth birthday and she was supposed to respond by dropping twelve pennies into the class box. The cousin with whom she was living at the time had failed to supply her with the meagre handful of copper pieces which would have saved her pride, and Ruth had stood blushing and pulling at her handkerchief while the children stared. She came back from the past and smiled at the attentive old woman.

While Ruth was eating, Penny brought up the subject of clothes. She said, "Miss Elaine, if you don't want to wire back for your clothes—go to school or home or wherever you forget and left 'em—there's something else we might do about it. We might find you something in the store-room. That box your mother sent for Saint Stephen's rummage sale last spring got here too late. The ladies were right put—unlike. The girl had, of course, invited Penny that she was arriving "in a few weeks." Penny's eyes had hardly deceived her on that point. "I'll be gone," thought Ruth, "with a week or two to spare. I'll have had my little masquerade, and no harm done—unless maybe to my own heart. I'll leave a note behind me, asking forgiveness. And that's all there'll be to that."

"Oh!" said Ruth, her eyes sparkling. "Do you suppose any of the clothes would fit me?" "Well, miss, there's a chance. Any of your clothes in the box, Miss Elaine?" asked Penny, puzzled.

"Yes," answered Ruth. She would have to wait herself.

SELF-MADE THRILLS

Sara nearly fell over when she saw Jennie walking home with the rich little Perkins girl. "How did that happen?" she wondered. She had a fight with Jennie and never had liked the snobbish Flo Perkins. Yet instantly she was jealous because, in spite of Flo's uppity ways, she would have liked very much to have a word and a smile from her. And liked still more to see Jennie snubbed.

Jealousy rankled. She made the most of it. For two days she whispered and gossiped about both. She thought—she was as furious as a hornet, but secretly—was having the time of her life. Every whispering word she uttered was a real thrill. She hugged her spite to her heart, and it warmed and comforted her.

Then one day Flo smiled sweetly at her, put her arm through Sally's and asked her to go home and play. And quite coincidentally Jennie too came and wrote her enemy a note and said she was sorry about their trouble.

Sally was pleased, indeed. She responded to the overtures like a little lady. But that night when she went to bed something was missing. Things were pleasant, but they were no longer spicy. There seemed to be a gap somewhere. It looked as though there wasn't much to get up for the next morning. Sure enough, the morning brought the same flatness and lack of prospect.

Sally did not know it, but the missing thrill was "jealousy." She liked to be jealous. It fed life and salted it. Almost instantly she was groping about in her mind for another girl to dislike because jealousy has to have a basis of hate behind it.

Before the day was over she found it. And for many days thereafter she lived fully and contentedly. Which goes to show that unfortunate emotions are pleasant to the human race as a rule and are not the torturing things they are made out to be. Not always, at least.

Once a man was owed fifty dollars by the man across the street. Finally it was paid—after five years—and he made this remark: "It was worth that much to me to keep my opinion of him. I didn't want the money." Yet for years he had talked about his neighbor.

There is also a joyful emotion whether we think so or not. The mind that flies into a tantrum easily does so because it likes to. Therefore it is well to watch our children and see that they do not live on these bitter "nits" and "enjoy them." The child who enjoys life through pleasant thoughts, and kindly acts, without guile, frank and honest with himself and others, will be the better man. He won't continue to live in a perpetual childhood of self-made misery, and then "enjoy them." It is every body's fault but his own.

Young Women Score Triumph

London Hails Three Geniuses in Varying Lines; One Working for International Standard for Mine Lamps

(From Our Own Correspondent)

London (By Mail).—The London stage has brought good fortune to three clever young women. A German non-Aryan actress has found a new future on the London stage. . . . a young painter is designing costumes for "Peer Gynt" . . . a pantomime principal girl has been engaged to star in Covent Garden opera.

These lucky three are: Lucie Mannheim. She left Germany of her own free will—but one London critic hails her as "Hitler's New Gift to Britain."

She certainly brings great gifts to the English stage. Her portrayal of Nina, in a play of the same name at the Criterion Theatre, is superb.

CLOTHES HER CANVAS

Betty Dyson, the artist, succeeds in another way. Although not yet twenty-five, she has been appointed designer of costumes at the Old Vic, the famous London theatre, which Charles Laughton, the film star, considers the cradle of British acting.

Her first task is to design 150 costumes for Ibsen's "Peer Gynt," to be staged shortly to the accompaniment of Grieg's music. A big order, especially as expenses have to be kept down.

This is how she is doing it. She has ordered 500 yards of cheap canvas—plain white—and dozens of pots of paint.

Every costume is first made up, then Betty Dyson paints them to resemble costly velvets and silks. Purple painted canvas, for example, looks exactly like purple velvet when in the limelight. Another advantage is that no embroidery will be needed. Miss Dyson is painting on her designs as she goes along.

Miss Dyson inherits her talent from a long line of artist ancestors. Her father is Will Dyson, the noted cartoonist. Although she has never been to an art school, Miss Dyson was earning her own living by painting at the age of fourteen.

Last year, she designed nearly all the costumes for London's monster pageant of Parliament. Before that, she held exhibition in London and New York. After "Peer Gynt," she will create costumes for a new production of "Julius Caesar."

PANTOMIME TO OPERA

Stella Browne is the third lucky woman.

Three years ago she was playing the princess in a London production of the pantomime "Aladdin."

Sir Thomas Beecham, the conductor, saw her and advised her to study opera. Miss Browne began taking lessons, and then went to Sweden. There she eventually secured parts at the Stockholm Opera House.

Now she has returned to London and Sir Thomas has engaged her to sing leading roles in two Covent Garden operas this autumn.

Under her stage name, Andrea, Miss Browne will sing "Musetta" in "La Boheme" and Rosina in "The Barber of Seville" . . . pretty good for three years' progress!

LADY OF THE LAMP

Another woman who has come into prominence this week is Miss Monica Maurice, aged twenty-six. Miss Maurice is a woman of one mind of their safety to her brains.

As manager of a lamp-making company, she has for several years been in charge of the installation and operation of modern lamps at several of Britain's most important collieries.

At it, she expounded her plan for an international standard for mine lighting. It included universal adoption of a new lamp which whistles and sings like a mad thing when a mine contains fire-damp, the gas which causes explosions.

Despite her profession, Miss Maurice is very feminine looking. She has soft brown hair, delicate coloring and the slender figure so sought after by modern women.

She began her novel career because she had no brother. She used to attend conferences with her father, manager of a famous safety lamp firm. Impressed with her aptitude he sent Monica to study at Hamburg University and then to the Paris Sorbonne. Later she visited the coal mines of Westphalia and worked in the world's largest mine-lamp factory in Saxony.

Now she is reaping the reward of her hard work, for she is widely regarded as one of the foremost business women in Britain. In her off duty hours, her main relaxation is flying.

CHIEF—NOT CHIEFTAINESS

After weeks of discussion, the Clan Maclean of Ardgour, one of the clans in Scotland, has decided not to elect a Scots girl as their chief.

Instead they have chosen a man living in England.

The girl whose claims have been passed over is sixteen-year-old Catriona Maclean, daughter of the clan chief, who died recently. Her claims were put forward by her mother, the Hon. Mrs. Maclean of Ardgour.

Capable though young Catriona is, the Clan Maclean association have decided that a woman chief would be ridiculous. In ancient days, they pointed out, the position of the chief-

Community Drama Valuable Asset

"Community Drama in British Columbia" was the subject of the interesting talk given by Major L. Bullock-Webster before the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club at its supper meeting at the T.W.C.A. yesterday evening.

The speaker commended the growth of the Little Theatre movement throughout Canada and spoke of the recreational and cultural advantages to be gained from establishing amateur groups and of their particular value as stimulus to the imagination of women, especially in the rural districts. Drama of the best type had universal appeal, he said, and as an illustration of the appreciation of its value, he said that out of 22,000 high schools in the United States, over one-third had courses in drama. Miss Lilian Parritt, on behalf of the club, moved the vote of thanks to the speaker.

A letter was read from the Soroptimist Club inviting the members to dinner at Speedie's Cafe on Friday, October 25, when the speaker will be Hon. George Pearson, and his subject, "Legislation as it Affects Women."

A bridge party will be held in the B. and P.W. Clubrooms on Saturday, October 26.

YOUNG ACKERS

I met him first one morning in August, just after the street lights went out, bouncing along on my Mathews Guild Moccasin-type shoes on my seven miles walk to my office. Soft, quick footsteps beside me—I glanced, in the dim light saw an athletic young figure bounding along, looked away. He said, "You're Doctor Jackson?" "Yes," "I thought so," and he joined in my walk, told of his school life at Upper Canada and the University, of his childhood physical handicaps, which ruled him out of games and sports, his determination to overcome and his success in achieving. He walked 2½ miles with me then turned back. Why was he out at 8 a.m.? He had read the previous evening of my seven miles walk each morning, doubted and came out to see. Well, what was he? He was another young fellow, who was fifty-four when he was born, still able to hold up his end with him in any physical or mental activity.

"Walk this distance every morning," he asked on turning back at Ossington. "Certainly, when in town, and no rain." "A long, long walk," he said as he turned away, no longer doubting, and I set out to make up time.

Why do people doubt me when it is easy for me to walk twice seven miles? Because few can do it at a third my age. Their blood stream is no longer a life stream, due to unnatural, conventional feeding habits. Mine is a life stream, vitalized, and vitalizing every body cell, richly mineralized and therefore normally fluid. Such blood flows freely into the heart muscle and other muscle cells and every cell of my body, maintaining vigor and endurance throughout my body. I am one of few men thus blessed, for almost all men give no thought to, have no understanding of, the kinds of foods that build an elastic, flexible, resilient, youthful body.

What foods do so? I can only say here Roman Meal, Bekus-Puddy, Lishas and Kofy-Sub are my standard of food perfection, constant.

The above is from a photograph of Robt. G. Jackson, M.D., taken in his 77th year.

tute one-third of my food intake, but there are many other foods that should be used with them and I shall gladly mail you, free, a list of these with other valuable food and health information if you write in for it to Dr. Jackson Foods, Ltd., 577 Vine Ave., Toronto 9, Ont.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDERD

The amount of milk used in a formula should be figured for a full twenty-four-hour day. Usually the formula is mixed in the morning, before the 10 a.m. feeding and is then used until the next morning. The last bottle will be given at 9 a.m.

The mother who prepares a certain proportion of milk, water and sugar, twice during the day, is inadvertently doubling the amount, probably intended for a full day. Since formulas are worked out according to the baby's weight and age and body needs, such mistake is certain to lead to over-feeding.

FINGER SUCKING

Mrs. T. J. N. considers the baby's finger sucking after meals a symptom of hunger. In view of her programme of feeding this is far fetched. It might more reasonably be due to discomfort.

"My baby girl is two months old," she writes. "At three weeks she had a bad attack of diarrhea and I had to send her back to the hospital. Now she is all right and weighs ten and one-half pounds. I am feeding her the dairy made buttermilk. She gets one pint of this, with three ounces of water and two tablespoonfuls of corn syrup.

"I was told to give her three and one-half ounces every three hours, but she did not seem satisfied with this. I am giving her six ounces every three hours. Sometimes at 7 in the morning she is not satisfied with six ounces so I give her eight ounces. If I do not she sucks her fingers as though still hungry. Her hours for feeding are 7-10-1-4 and 7 and then another feeding at 10 at night after which she sleeps until 7. I feel that she is being over-fed. Would she be better satisfied with a feeding of cereal?"

The baby does not need to be fed five times daily 7-11-3 and 7 and once at night. It is plain you are preparing the above formula twice, which gives thirty-two ounces of milk, six ounces of water and four tablespoonfuls of corn syrup, a formula that would be about right for a child of fifteen pounds or over.

Buttermilk is easy to digest, which accounts probably for the lack of digestive troubles on this strong formula. Try twenty ounces of buttermilk, one ounce of corn syrup and enough boiled water to make five-six ounce feedings and feed at the hours suggested above.

Cod liver oil and orange juice are likewise in order and the rest of the baby's daily needs as they arise are given in my leaflet, "Feeding from Two to Nine Months," and the formulas for buttermilk in the leaflet "Lactate Acid Feedings." Both may be had for a self-addressed stamped envelope sent to Myrtle Meyer Elderd of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

TWO WOMEN AS FEDERAL M.P.'S

Mrs. Geo. Black Joins Miss Agnes MacPhail in the Dominion House

Canadian Press
Toronto, Oct. 15.—Canada's eighteenth Parliament, elected yesterday, will include two women for the first time in history. Voting resulted in the re-election of Miss Agnes MacPhail, the Dominion's first woman parliamentarian, and victory for Mrs. George Black in the Yukon. Thirteen others were defeated.

The election brought the representation of women in the Commons even with the Senate because the re-election appointment of Hon. Iva G. P. Hall of Peterborough, meant Hon. Cairine Wilson would have another member of her sex in the red chamber.

Representing the United Farmers of Ontario-Labor alliance, Miss MacPhail won handily from a Liberal and Conservative in Grey-Bruce, Ont., the former constituency of Grey South-east for which she sat as a Progressive since her first victory in 1921.

Mrs. Black, who defeated J. P. Smith, Independent Liberal, in the Yukon, succeeds her husband, a former Speaker of the Commons, who was forced out of politics by a serious illness. She is a real soundbitch and accompanied her husband to the Yukon many years ago. As wife of the Speaker and hostess in the Speaker's chambers she came to be as well known at Ottawa as many members of Parliament will be no stranger to parliamentary usage. She is an Independent Conservative.

Except for Emma Gendron, an Independent in Montreal St. James, the other woman contestants were either members of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation or the Reconstruction Party.

Defeated C.C.F. women candidates: Olive J. Whyte, Essex West, Ont.; Dr. Rose Henderson, Toronto Parkdale; Dr. Lorna Cotton, Peterborough West, Ont.; Mrs. Louis Lucas, Bathurst, N.S.; Edith Patterson, Calgary West; Mrs. D. C. Pope, Melfort, Sask.; Mary Crawford, Edmonton West.

Defeated Reconstruction Party candidates: Dr. Frances L. Fin, Northumberland; Nora Frances Henderson, Hamilton West; Dr. Minerva Reid, Toronto High Park; Mrs. Eva Nelson, Llagar, Man.; Mrs. Edward Mahon, Vancouver Centre.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

SUNDAY SUPPER AFFORDS CHILD CHANCE TO COOK

By MARY E. DAGUE

Can your son and daughter cook? They'd get lots of fun out of preparing and serving simple meals even before they've reached their teens. Sunday night supper is a fine occasion to start with. And here's a menu that's seasonal and appetizing, and within a beginner's ability to prepare: Spaghetti with mushrooms, pumpkin, pineapple, marshmallow, charlotte, milk, tea.

Make the dessert Saturday morning and here is the recipe:

PINEAPPLE MARSHMALLOW CHARLOTTE

One-half cup whipping cream, ¼ cup cut marshmallows, 1½ tablespoons granulated gelatin, ½ cup cold water, 1 cup crushed pineapple, ¼ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 dozen lady fingers.

Dip scissors in cold water when cutting marshmallows in small pieces. Whip cream until stiff. Use a rotary beater to whip the cream, which should be thoroughly chilled. Combine cream and prepared marshmallows. Soak gelatin in cold water for five minutes. Bring pineapple to the boiling point and add soaked gelatin. Remove at once from the fire and add sugar and lemon juice. Place the sauce pan containing this mixture in a larger pan of ice water and chill, stirring constantly. When it begins to thicken add the whipped cream and marshmallows, folding them into the gelatin mixture. Line paper cups with lady fingers which have been split, putting the split side in. Fill charlotte mixture lightly in the cups, cover with waxed paper and chill in the refrigerator until wanted to serve. The recipe makes four servings.

SPAGHETTI AND MUSHROOMS

To make the spaghetti with mushrooms you will need one 8-ounce package of spaghetti, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 pound round steak ground, 1 medium-sized onion, ½ pound mushrooms, 2 cups canned tomatoes, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup grated cheese.

Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water for twenty-five minutes, breaking it in pieces or cooking it whole as you prefer. Drain and put on a heat-proof platter. Pour over sauce, sprinkle with grated cheese and slide under the broiler long enough to melt the cheese.

To make the sauce: Melt butter, add onion cut in thin slices and cook slowly five minutes. Add chopped meat and cook twenty minutes, stirring to prevent sticking and burning. Add salt and pepper and tomatoes which have been cleaned and cut in thin slices. Cook twenty minutes longer, stirring occasionally.

TO-MORROW'S MENU

Breakfast: Grapes, cereal, cream, baked oatmeal with tomatoes, crisp wholeheart toast, milk, coffee.
Luncheon: Cream of celery soup,

ONLY WOMEN MEMBERS IN HOUSE

Of the fifteen women who sought Parliamentary honors, only two were elected at the polls. Miss Agnes MacPhail retained her seat in the U.F.O.-Labor Party in Bruce-Grey County, Ontario, and Mrs. George Black, Independent Conservative, was elected to the Yukon seat formerly held by her husband, Hon. George Black.

Women Urge Stiffening Of Motor Traffic Laws

SCARF

Miss Adele Walker, with an eye to the chilly weather, attended the races at Belmont in a light-colored topcoat of warm-looking spongy woolen, a tailored felt hat and a bright plaid scarf that provided a note of contrast.

Local Council Commends Article in Times and Automobile Club's Stand on Dangerous Driving

"In the interests of public safety, the Local Council of Women gratefully commends The Victoria Daily Times for reprinting the article 'And Sudden Death,' also the Automobile Club for their co-operation, and that this council further urges the stiffening of all laws to regulate motor traffic and their strict enforcement."

This resolution, put before the monthly meeting of the Local Council of Women yesterday afternoon by Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin, was endorsed, and will be placed on the agenda for the forthcoming annual meeting. Recommendations for further publicity of the same were put forward by Mrs. MacLaurin, who also requested that the standing committee on laws investigate the law regulating traffic, and the issuance of motor licenses, and that temperance workers use in their interests the statement made in the article regarding "a drink slowing down reactions."

In regard to the stiffening of traffic laws, Miss J. E. M. Bruce pointed out that with the production of high-powered cars, there was the tendency for drivers to travel at great speed, and that suggestion had been made that in order to safeguard the public, legislation restricting the production of high-powered cars should be urged. Mrs. MacLaurin, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Bruce were appointed members of a committee to deal with the resolution.

B.N.A. ACT REVIEWED

In an interesting and comprehensive talk, Mrs. M. E. Godson outlined the provisions of the B.N.A. Act, pointing out the powers that the act confers on the federal government, showing that Canada was free to make all laws, except changes in the constitution, and that in the case of war it was possible for Canada to maintain a neutral belligerency.

Canada was equal in status to Great Britain as a member of the Commonwealth of Nations, but Great Britain was superior in function and could make decisions alone on international matters which directly or indirectly affected Canada. As a member of the League of Nations, Canada was pledged to internationalism, and to assist in all work of the league.

The constitution of Canada, the speaker noted, was partly written and partly unwritten, and the historical circumstances under which it was enacted had prevented the B.N.A. Act from being as complete as it might have been, owing to racial, linguistic, social, economic, geographical, and even sentimental forces, that prevented its perfection.

For those wishing to increase their knowledge of the act, Mrs. Godson recommended an article on "Rewriting the Canadian Constitution," which appeared in The Canadian Forum of March, 1935.

Discussion of the B.N.A. Act will be continued at the next meeting of the Women's Council, when Dr. Olga Jarvin will give a talk on the powers of the act in relation to each province of the Dominion.

Correspondence read at the meeting included notice of the meeting of the Provincial Council, which will be held in Vancouver on Thursday of this week, when Mrs. Paul Smith will give a summary of suggested amendments to the Mothers' Pension Act, the Infants' Act, the Unmarried Mothers' Act and the Equal Guardianship Act.

In the matter of a letter received from the Health League of Canada, asking for support of the Federal Health measures, it was recommended by Mrs. Spofford that before taking action, the Local Council should discuss the matter with the new federal member for Victoria, and urge his endorsement of the suggestions.

THREE BEAUTY PROBLEMS ARE MOST COMMON

"How can I reduce quickly? What can I do to get rid of dandruff? Please give me advice about clarifying my skin." These are the problems that seem to bother the majority of women who write to a beauty editor these days.

To the first, there is one answer. You should not try to reduce quickly. After all, it took months to put on the extra flesh and it is really dangerous to set out to get rid of it in a few weeks. Do not attempt to lose more than one pound a week. Cut down on starches and sweets, substituting fresh vegetables and fruit for them, eat smaller portions of everything, drink eight glasses of water a day and do exercise. You simply must exercise.

Eliminating dandruff takes time and trouble, too. You must brush your scalp and hair each night, and wash the hairbrush after each treatment. In addition, get a good tonic, especially made not only to dissolve the white flakes but to remove them permanently, and massage it into your scalp daily. Remember that balsam oil shampoos are recommended by a good many excellent hairdressers. The oil should be rubbed on scalp and in hair and rinsed out with quite warm water. If you like, you can wash a second time with a regular scapy shampoo liquid. If possible, dry your hair in the sunshine.

The third problem, particularly if it is chronic, should be taken up with your family doctor. If it is slight and blemishes occur infrequently, the chances are that eight glasses of water a day, eight hours sleep a night, and a sensible diet will do the trick.

Eighty Invited, Only Eight Come

New York, Oct. 15.—Manhattan has been experiencing hectic social life, what with cocktail parties being tossed left and right for Leslie Howard, Joan Crawford, Franchot Tone and other visiting celebrities. But it still has not been determined why Mickey Mouse's seventh birthday party at a local hotel the other day was a fiasco. "There were as many as eighty in honor of the animated rodent. Eighty invited. And there have been no birthdays."

Free Samples of Vick Aids to Better Control of Colds Offered by Local Druggists

Trial Packages Contain Vicks Vapo-rub, Vicks VapoRub and a Home Guide to Fever and Shorter Colds—Druggists Also Have Free Samples of Vicks Medicated Cough Drops

Thousands of Canadian families have already gained greater freedom from colds—with the help of the famous Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds.

Developed by the makers of Vicks VapoRub, this home guide to fever and shorter colds is commonsense and medically sound. It is based on 30 years of practical experience and research by Vicks Chemists, specializing in the study of colds. Its worth has been demonstrated not only in everyday home use, but also in extensive clinical tests under medical supervision.

And now—to introduce Vicks Plan to more families in this section—local druggists are distributing free trial packages, containing complete details of the Plan and samples of the Vicks Colds-Control Aids.

Aid in Preventing Many Colds
Discovery of Vicks Vapo-rub, unique aid in preventing colds, made Vicks Plan possible. Especially designed for the nose and upper throat—where most colds start—Vapo-rub aids and stimulates Nature's own functions to prevent many colds, and to throw off head colds in the early stages.

Vapo-rub is easy and convenient to use—any time or place. Just a few drops up each nostril at the first nasal irritation, sniffle or sneeze. Used in time, it helps to avoid many colds.

Family Standby for Relieving Colds
If a cold has developed, or strikes without warning, Vicks VapoRub—the family standby for relieving colds—helps to end it quicker. Simply rub on throat and chest at bedtime. VapoRub acts two ways at once: (1) By stimulation through the skin, like a poultice or plaster; (2) By inhalation of its penetrating medicated vapors direct to inflamed air-passages.

Through the night, this combined vapor-poultice action loosens phlegm, soothes irritated membranes, helps break congestion. Often by morning, the worst of the cold is over.

(Ever since the introduction of VapoRub, millions of people have used it as they would a cough drop, by melting a little on the tongue. Now, in Vicks Medicated Cough Drops, the throat-soothing ingredients of VapoRub are available in convenient candy form—a really medicated and distinctive cough drop.)

Get Your Free Sample To-day
Don't forget—your druggist has a few free trial packages of these Vicks Aids to Better Control of Colds. See him to-day, before they're all gone. The free packages contain all the information you need for following Vicks Plan. Test the samples—then prove what Vicks Plan can do for you and your family. You'll find it easy to follow in your own home.

Plunkett Holds Victoria as Island Rivals Split Voters

Bay, as is customary, gave the Conservative representative a margin and Wards One, Two and Three went noticeably toward the C.C.F. Mr. McDowell got considerable support around Fairfield and in the upper Gordon Street area.

MR. PLUNKETT'S THANKS

When Mr. Plunkett's election had been conceded, he expressed his thanks to nearly 800 electors gathered on Broad Street, over the public address system installed in The Times newsroom.

The Conservative standard-bearer voiced his sincere appreciation of the support given him by the Victoria electors, and pledged his duty to their service in his forthcoming term of office. "All my service is for you," he said.

Mr. Plunkett assured that anyone coming to him to discuss federal matters would find him receptive, regardless of their position. He acknowledged the courtesy of his opponents, and stated he held no ill-feeling for them in his victory. Matters such as these, he said, were swept aside with the single thought in his mind to serve the people.

ATTENDS RECEPTION

Mr. Plunkett expressed publicly his thanks to The Times and the press generally for its fair account of the campaign meetings, and voiced his appreciation of being given the opportunity to speak. Afterwards Mr. Plunkett's supporters gave him a reception in Conservative headquarters. He also spoke over C.P.C.T.

C.C.F. ENTHUSIASTIC
Mr. Gordon, who was received with a jolly cheer as he was introduced from The Times, congratulated Mr. Plunkett on his "amazing fight," and said while the C.C.F. was defeated, it was not downhearted, and the battle would begin again on the morrow.

To Mr. Gordon the astonishing factor of the polling was not the Liberal landslide, but the tremendous support accorded the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation.

While the C.C.F. may be slow in getting under way, it was only a question of time before the people would awaken, and then a government would sweep into office which would overthrow the present system and start anew, he predicted.

RALLY AT CHAMBER

Mr. Gordon's supporters held a post-election rally in the Chamber of Commerce. Close to 1,000 attended and gave the candidate a great ovation on the terrace.

"We are not downhearted, and we are just beginning the fight," Mr. Gordon told them. "I came into Victoria a stranger, but I feel a stranger no longer."

Rev. Robert Connell, provincial House leader for the C.C.F., also spoke, and alleged bitter and vile misrepresentation of C.C.F. objectives by the opposition forces during the campaign.

J. H. Stott was chairman, and entertainment was provided by Frank Merryfield, Mrs. R. H. Milne, Mrs. Ford, Miss Dolly Rutledge, J. M. Thomas, James McGrath, the Jones Boys and Frank Levery.

CLEAN CAMPAIGN

C. J. McDowell, Liberal candidate, referred to the cleanliness of the campaign, in which neither the other candidates nor himself had engaged in personalities.

While his party had been unsuccessful in this constituency, there had been a marked return to Liberal policies in the rest of Canada, which Mr. McDowell felt assured would result in a return of prosperity to the country.

Despite the fact the C.C.F. had made a good showing, Mr. McDowell did not think they would be a very great factor in the future. Under the influence of Liberal thought, Canada would see the road to prosperity, and third parties would disappear, as they always did under Liberal rule.

He congratulated Mr. Plunkett on his clear-cut victory.

Mr. McDowell dispatched a wire to his chieftain, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, congratulating him upon his wonderful mandate from the Canadian people. The text of the wire follows:

"Heartiest congratulations on your splendid victory and overwhelming vindication of your policies. It is indeed a personal triumph, and is extremely gratifying. Regret that Victoria will not have a member supporting your government and policies, but I wish to assure you that the reason is entirely local and unsatisfactory economic conditions. The third party's large vote was predominantly a vote of protest. I am personally confident that Liberal policies will end deplorable conditions existing throughout Canada, and again under a Liberal government, third parties will disappear."

RECONSTRUCTION CANDIDATE
Mr. George made the following statement:

"The people's mental reaction to this four-cornered high-pressure election campaign has, after a day of rest and meditation, been indelibly registered by the election of Mr. Plunkett. Conservative candidate. Permit me to extend my congratulations to Mr. Plunkett upon the victory accorded him at the polls," Mr. George said.

"My deep appreciation and thanks go out to the many supporters and workers who endorsed my appeal for an opportunity to help govern this great country of ours with more humanity and Christian application of ideals. In closing, my thanks are extended to the press of this city."

Five Rugby Games To Open Season Here Saturday

THE SPORTS MIRROR

A NEW ORGANIZATION for looking after the interests of footballers both in Britain and abroad has been formed with its headquarters in London. It is to be called the International Guild of Professional Association Football Players, and will probably have offices in all the big football centres.

In view of the development of the game outside Britain, and the increasing possibilities of the overseas market for British players, the existence and purposes of the Guild are being brought to the notice of all reputable clubs in Europe and elsewhere abroad in the hope that this new organization may become the recognized medium for the engagement of players, coaches and referees. Only those on official lists as players may become full members.

In effect the new organization may be said to be the fulfillment of an old idea, that a "clearing house" should be instituted for the purpose of finding clubs for players, or vice versa. At the moment a player has no recognized employment agency for his services if he leaves without a club. He has only friends to advise him on any legal or other points that may arise in his career. It is hoped by the organizers that the Guild will become the recognized headquarters of professional players with branch offices in such places as Glasgow, Dublin, Cardiff, and cities of the continent.

Enormous interest is being shown in Germany in the forthcoming soccer clash with England on December 4. The German Football Association has announced that they propose to charter a steamship, accommodating 1,500 spectators, to carry German football "fans" to see the match. Where will the match be played? Usually these matches with continental countries take place at one of the big London grounds, the reason being that visiting teams express the wish to play in the capital. It is likely, however, that the Anglo-German match will be allotted to one of the midland or northern grounds.

London is already assured of more than its quota of big matches. Wembley will stage the England-Scotland match this year and the F.A. Cup final. In addition to these there is always the possibility that circumstances will demand a cup semi-final game being played on one of the London grounds. The trouble is the finding of a provincial centre where the "game" will reach the proportions of a London match. Other continental teams have pocketed about $2,000 from their matches with England, and the Germans will naturally look for a similar amount.

Germany has made great strides in the game since the two games of 1901 when England won 12 to 0 at Tottenham and 10 to 0 at Manchester. The improvement was already apparent in 1930 when a strong England team was held to a 3 to 3 draw at Berlin.

Billy Basset, West Bromwich Albion, is fond of telling an amusing story of German football. When he visited Germany with an English team in 1899, the Germans had a very slight knowledge of the game. One German half-back had evidently been instructed to stick to Basset, and wherever the latter moved the German followed. It became a joke, and to test his opponent to the limit, Basset ran behind the goal off the field of play. Even then his "shadow" went with him!

The influence of British coaches has brought about a vast change from those days. The Germans have been keen and intelligent learners, and to-day their game is wonderfully organized, and the players are finely disciplined and trained.

OAK BAY WOMEN CAPTURE MATCH

Women members of the Victoria Golf Club scored a 6 to 2 victory over visiting players from the Cowichan Club in an interclub match yesterday. Miss Peterson and Mrs. Duncan marked up the victories for the up-lining team.

Miss Duncan 0, Mrs. Perry 1.

Ten Teams Will Start In Three Local Divisions

Grounds and Referees to Be Set at Union Meeting To-morrow Evening

Navy, Gunners Are Favored

As they waited for definite word from Victoria Rugby Union officials regarding ground and referee allotments, Victoria's oval ball carriers prepared to-day to open their 1935-36 English code season with five games here on Saturday.

The two senior A fixtures, pick of the programme from early indications, will see two championship squads facing two other smart aggregations. Fifth Brigade, winner of the Cowichan Cup and Vancouver Island title last year, is scheduled to stack up against the Garrison, a team which last year was polishing up from a "best team" into a rugby outfit. In the other game, Navy, winners last year of the Barnard Cup, emblematic of the city laurels, will take the field against the recently amalgamated Oak Bay Wanderers-James Bay Athletic Association club in what should prove a smart tussle.

TWO-TEAM LEAGUE

The two-team league of senior B squads is scheduled to start its three out of five series for its own title as Navy and Garrison players, only entries in that division, clash.

Among the intermediates, Wanderers Whites will battle Wanderers Blues at last year's prominence, while Victoria College will trot out against Buller's revived Fifth Brigade.

The Rugby Union is scheduled to hold its regular meeting to-morrow evening to set grounds and referees for the fixtures. The season was scheduled for yesterday evening, but political activities intervened to cause its postponement.

SUFFICIENT GROUNDS

The teams are certain of sufficient grounds with two fields available at MacDonald Park, at least one at Oak Bay Park, one at the Naval Recreation Grounds, and one at Work Point, as well as the College home grounds at Victoria High School.

Reports from the referee's board indicate a good supply of officials to handle the fixtures.

With recent rains softening the turf the grounds should be in satisfactory shape for the opening fray.

The teams have been working out regularly and appear in fairly good condition for the opening. The strength of the Navy-Wanderers will be a question until after the opening game, as will that of the Cowichan-Scottish, which has drawn a bye for the first date. However, the Fifth Brigade and Navy should be strong bet against this year, while the Garrison should show the benefits of another season's play in the first division last year.

Referees and grounds for the different games will be announced later in the week.

One-armed Grid Centre Is Good

Albuquerque, N.M., Oct. 15.—Usually it takes a football centre with two good hands to snap the ball accurately to the backfield, but here is one who's doing the job with a single hand—and a "darned fine" job at that.

He is Bill Baker, 160-pound Hawaiian on the University of New Mexico squad. His left arm was shattered in a gun accident when he was a boy and had to be amputated above the elbow.

Coach Gwinn Henry says the Hawaiian boy is a "darned fine centre."

FOUR LEADERS PLAY AT PARK

Wednesday Football League Bills Interesting Matches To-morrow Afternoon

Four clubs who are in a tie for first position in the Wednesday Football League will appear in a double-header at the Athletic Park to-morrow afternoon. In the opener at 2:30 o'clock the James Bay Wanderers will engage the Navy.

The second engagement will bring together Spencers, last year's league titleholders, and the Hudson's Bay. The battle between the rival department store elevens should be a great one.

Third match will be between Kreegas and Saanich United at Heywood Avenue. This game is scheduled to start at 2:45 o'clock.

Some of the teams follow: Kreegas—Wilmhurst, Jack, Crowe, A. McBride, Chapman, Coates, Don Duncan, Hall, M. McBride, McLeish, Hill, Dan Duncun, Obee and McKenna.

Saanich United—O'Connor, Bailey, Travers, Stonier, Moir, Embrey, Brown, Henry, Newell, Smith, Constable, Alcock, Bailey and Sparks.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

When Nero, Emperor of Rome, decided to murder his mother, his cruel fancy reached a new high—he had a boat built especially for her, one designed so that it would fall to pieces at a given signal. With all the attention of an affectionate son, he received her on a visit and then induced her to board the death ship. The plot went off according to plans, except for one mistake—Nero had not counted on his mother's ability to swim. She escaped by swimming out of the wreckage and safely reached her own home, but soon her home was surrounded by soldiers of the Emperor who then and there killed her in cold blood.

Pheasant Season To Open Saturday

Pepper Martin to Return to Garden

St. Louis, Oct. 15.—Among the deals the St. Louis Cardinals may swing this winter, look for one that will bring a third baseman to the depleted National League champions.

That won't mean the benching next season of Pepper Martin, but it will mean the return of the Wild Horse of the Oage to the outfield.

Local and Island hunters are looking forward with great enthusiasm to the opening on Saturday of five bird shooting seasons, namely: cock pheasant, California quail, willow grouse, ducks and geese.

Generally speaking, the prospects for limit bags of cock pheasants is much more promising this season than for a number of years. Cowichan Lake and the Saanich district will be popular hunting grounds.

Quail are not so numerous as they were a few years ago, and hunters advance the theory that domestic cats gone wild are feasting on these birds. The Victoria and Island Game Association has for some time been trying to devise some way to get rid of this menace and protect the birds.

Mountain quail are still on the closed list, and during the last few years have barely held their own. Quail are generally always to be found in the vicinity of large broom patches on lower Vancouver Island.

Willow grouse are also reported scarce. As yet it is a little too early to give a summary on the duck hunting possibilities. However, it will not be long before they are frozen out up north and will commence their migration south.

The daily bag limits on these five birds are as follows: Quail, twenty; limit, fifty; pheasants, four; total, twenty-five; willow grouse, six; ducks, twenty up to November 30, and remainder of season fifteen, and total for season 150.

Ian Eisenhardt, provincial director, will give an address, outlining the work to be carried out in physical recreation. Local civic officials will also speak.

Registrations for the classes will be taken on Monday. All people, young or old, are welcomed to join the groups.

Splendid facilities have been secured for the indoor gymnastics at the Y.M.C.A. The "Y" plant has floor space for large classes and is equipped with all the necessary apparatus.

The fine facilities at the Crystal Garden are again at the disposal of the centre. All members who can already swim will be trained for the bronze medalion of the Royal Life Saving Society. Fred Ellison, instructor at the Garden, will work in co-operation with A. C. Batchelor in carrying out the men's swimming classes.

Three instructors appointed by the department of education: Miss Joan Horstfield, Miss Pauline Rookes and A. C. Batchelor, all qualified in the teaching of the many phases of physical and recreational education, are now making preparations for the opening day next Monday.

For the dancing classes it is expected that the Memorial Hall will be available. The schedule for this branch of the work is not yet available, but one afternoon and one evening will be devoted. National and rhythmic dances, tap dancing and folk dancing, including mixed folk and tap dancing, will be taught.

CITY WILL MEET

Victoria City first division football team will hold a meeting to-morrow night at the Veterans of France at 8 o'clock. All players are asked to attend.

It is not expected that other countries will, at present, have any serious claims to success in such an international contest, but the recent visit to this country of a Canadian team has stimulated international rivalry. Canada is anxious to have official matches, and both France and Japan would embrace this opportunity of developing their talent.

Spain is producing some excellent golfers; a British team has visited Laffarville, near Bordeaux, the successes of A. D. Locke, the phenomenal golfer, has created a greater interest in the game amongst the South Africans, and the Argentinians are always keen. Add to these central European nations, and the Scandinavian, and the nucleus of a world tournament is formed.

The growth of the game in Japan may be appreciated by the fact that in Tokio alone there are now seven golf courses. Most of the players are wealthy, and one club there has bought new golf clubs at a cost equivalent to $500,000.

One obvious advantage of a worldwide Walker Cup competition would be the necessary formation of an international controlling body, which would have the effect of adjusting some differences now existing in the rules of the game and in the regulations regarding equipment. At present, for instance, the golf ball used in the United States is larger than that legalised in Great Britain. Such an anomaly could not exist in a confederation of the world's golfing nations.

ROWLAND JONES TO RETIRE

Rowland Jones, one of London's most popular professional golfers, and a contemporary of Vardon, Braid and Taylor, is to retire. He has resigned from his post at Wimbledon Park Club, and at the end of October will return with his wife to St. Helen's, Isle of Wight, where he was born nearly sixty-three years ago.

Jones was apprenticed to John Beverly at the Royal Isle of Wight Club, and served for some years at Littlehampton, Sussex, before becoming professional at Wimbledon Park when that club was started in April, 1897. One of Jones's first tasks was to complete the designing of the course, and he has supervised the greenkeeping ever since.

"It is a great wrench for me to leave after so many years of friendly associations," Jones said to Reuter at Wimbledon to-day.

"But I want to enjoy the last years of my life free from worry. I am still keen on the game, and the secretary of the Shamrock and Handover Club has kindly offered me playing facilities over the course, but I am finished with it as a business."

"My house here is being taken over by my daughter and her husband, and a room will be kept for me so that I can come to London sometimes to see my old friends and attend the big tournaments. In my life there has been so little time for watching championships. I have been too busy trying to win them."

"My best year, I think, were 1908 when I tied with Taylor for second place in the open, and 1909 when I

Motorcycle Club Will Stage Annual Hillclimb Next Week

Daredevils To Challenge Hill At Mt. Douglas

Course Will Be in Excellent Condition for Event on Thanksgiving Day

Outsiders Will Be in Action

Long regarded as one of Victoria's premier sporting events, the annual Thanksgiving Day hillclimb staged by the Victoria Motorcycle Club, will once again provide its quota of thrills for spectators and riders alike. Promptly at 2 o'clock on Thursday, October 24, rain or shine, the annual attack on the steep grade at Mount Douglas Park will start.

This year, owing to Thanksgiving being later than usual, the heavy fall rains will have hardened the course more than in former years so that faster rides are predicted. A crew of members of the club have put in a lot of work clearing the heavy growth of broom that makes its appearance each year on the course, removing the dead wood that last winter's storms threw around and clearing additional space for the spectators to stand to view the contest. Special attention has been given to the bank behind the starting pit so that it is possible to watch a machine from the start to the finish from that vantage point and not be bothered by the dirt thrown from the speeding machines.

NOVICE EVENT
A novice event, open to club members who have not taken a prize in any hillclimb, will be staged and should prove a very interesting contest as riders must own the machine they ride and it must keep to certain specifications as regards motor tuning, etc., so that it should be more of a contest between riders than machines. As usual there should be a great battle for the Paul Girard Trophy, emblematic of the club hillclimbing championship. This beautiful cup was put up for competition by the club in memory of Paul Girard who was killed in an accident in 1929, at which time he was secretary of the Victoria Motorcycle Club. It has been held by Johnnie Worthington, Bill Dillabough, Bob Shanks, three times, and Bill Epley, the present champion. Shanks did not compete for the cup last year and it is expected he will be right in the fight again this time.

One rider who will be a source of worry to anyone with eyes on the silverware, is Frank Baylis. Baylis took a third place in a climb staged by the Seattle club this summer, and was only beaten by a few inches, on a hill that was not topped by the professional riders during the entire climb. He has a good motor and can handle it on any surface so should be quite at home on the loose dirt of Mount Douglas. All the riders in the novice class will also compete for the Paul Girard Trophy, and it would not be surprising to see a "novice" lift the cup as the more experienced riders often try to use too much speed and consequently get thrown and are disqualified.

OUTSIDERS INVITED
For the first time in the history of the climb, outside riders will be invited to compete. Last year F. W. Francis presented the club with a beautiful trophy to be used for an island championship event and riders from up-land came down to compete but were unable to beat "Corky" Thomas and his B Scout who now holds the cup. This year invitations have been sent to all northwest clubs who are affiliated with the American Motorcycle Association to send over their stars to ride in this event, and so far Portland and Seattle have promised riders. Ray Douglas, with his specially-tuned big Harley 74, will again represent the Cowichan Greyhound Club of Duncan, V.I., and if his motor has the power it showed

N.H.L. Purchases St. Louis Team

New York, Oct. 15.—The National Hockey League today purchased outright the franchise of the St. Louis club and indicated the league would operate as an eight-club circuit this season.

DR. POYNTZ RE-ELECTED

Returned as Head of Badminton Association; Entries Close October 22

Dr. Arthur Poyntz was re-elected president of the Lower Vancouver Island Badminton League at the annual meeting held yesterday evening at the Y.M.C.A. It will be his third consecutive year at the head of the league.

On Monday, October 23, the teams in the third, fourth and fifth divisions will swing into league play, with the first and second section outfits to open their season one week later. Thirty-three teams competed in the various divisions last season and league officials are looking forward to an even bigger entry this year. Teams intending to compete in the league are asked to send their entry forms to Stan Holman, 706 Cook Street, not later than October 22.

SECRETARY RETIRES
The meeting witnessed the retirement of Stan Holman, popular secretary of the association. This hard-working official has played no small part in the success of the organization and his withdrawal was keenly felt by the attending delegates. The post of secretary-treasurer has been left open in the meantime.

Annual reports tendered by the retiring officers showed the association enjoyed great success last season and was in a sound financial condition. The complete list of new officers follows:
Honorary president, C. Hugo Bayment; honorary vice-presidents, Brigadier D. J. MacDonald, Major J. C. MacDonald, Lieut.-Col. Chambers, Major-Rupert, Colonel Sheridan-Rice and General Gwynne; president, Dr. A. Poyntz; vice-president, H. B. Witter; executive committee, N. B. Staples, W. D. Warder, W. Watt and W. Martin.

J. Parker was appointed special representative of the Cowichan-Newcastle district, where it is hoped to organize a fifth division this season in addition to the fourth division now in operation.

Champions during the 1934-35 season were announced as follows:

First division, Duncan; second division, Brentwood; third division, Victoria; fourth division, Hillcrest, and fifth division, Y.M.C.A. Brentwood won the junior knockout competition and also the Merit Cup, donated to the club showing the most improvement during one season of play.

U.S. Football Muddle Clears

Leading Clubs Coming to Fore Throughout Country; Several Favorites Beaten

By BOB CAVANARO
New York, Oct. 15.—Hitch your chair to the desk and let us try to sort out this hazy football season.

The defeat of such early-season favorites as Stanford, Alabama, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and Fordham has thrown sectional championships wide open but nevertheless the situation slowly is beginning to take shape along the line.

The east still has more than a dozen teams belonging to the "leader" class. Some critics hold Holy Cross, a big, powerful outfit with a deceptive attack, as just about the strongest of the lot but there will be many dissenters among the supporters of Colgate, a red hot contender despite losing to Iowa; Jock Ruthenford's Pitt Panthers; Yale, Princeton, Navy and Columbia. One of the last four will be eliminated from the running Saturday for Yale and Navy clash at New Haven; Columbia will engage Penn at Philadelphia; and may have to fight hard to stay in the race.

NOTRE DAME FIGURES

The Midwest has three outstanding independent teams in Notre Dame, Marquette and Michigan State. The "Big Ten" season is too young to gauge from a strictly conference angle. It is impossible to rate them numerically, but the leader can be chosen from among Ohio State, Minnesota, Purdue, Illinois and Iowa.

Dopesters can breathe a little easier in the southern conference. North Carolina, Duke and North Carolina State are the top-flighters, with the prospects that N.C. and Duke will fight it out down the stretch for the sectional honor.

The southeastern conference situation, however, is in a terrific muddle, with any of eight teams left with chances to cop the title, Louisiana State and Vanderbilt seemingly having a bulge on Kentucky, Tennessee, Tulane, Auburn, Georgia and Mississippi.

One might as well try to fish for a pin in a pot of molten lead as try to dope the southwest. Rice, Southern Methodist, Texas and Texas Christian—there they are, and take your pick. In the Big Six sector Nebraska is the overwhelming favorite over first, Oklahoma and second, Kansas State. In the Rocky Mountain region it seems to be Denver, Utah and Utah State. On the Pacific Coast, California's Bears, with consecutive victories over the formidable St. Mary's and Oregon eleven and Santa Clara on deck Saturday, looks like the best by a shade, but University of California at Los Angeles and Washington's Huskies are right in the thick of the argument both with excellent claims.

HOLLAND VS. IRELAND

Dublin (Canadian Press).—Sober in the Netherlands has made great strides in recent years and a representative Holland team will play an international match with Ireland here Dec. 10.

Paavo Nurmi Ends Brilliant Career

"Flying Finn" Decides to Hang Up Spikes After Twenty-three Years of Campaigning on Cinder Paths; Is Still Holder of Nine World Records

London, Oct. 15.—Paavo Nurmi has run his last race. The "Flying Finn," who is the greatest runner the world has ever known, has decided to hang up his spikes following his long and brilliant career. Finland's idol and the most phenomenal distance runner in history will in future teach others what he himself has learned from his years on the track.

Retaining his well-known reputation for secrecy and silence, it was only at the last minute he revealed that his unique race against fifteen opponents was to be the last of his career.

Between eight and nine thousand people saw the great Nurmi run 3,000 metres against opponents running in relay, 200 metres each. As Nurmi's opponents were chosen because of their civic rather than athletic prowess, the contest assumed more of a humorous nature than a serious race.

The opponents included the commissioner of the Helmsington police, the president of the municipal council, the chief of the salvage department, members of parliament, opera singers, professors, bankers and directors of public companies.

A DEAD HEAT

Nurmi contented himself by suiting his pace to that of his different competitors and it officially ended in a dead heat. No time was taken.

The spectators derived considerable amusement from the blowings and puffings of the local celebrities, whose previous activities had been confined to catching buses and trains.

But Nurmi was as impassive and sphinx-like as usual. Deaf to the cheers and cries of "apeach" from his countrymen he stalked majestically and slowly to his dressing-room without so much as a faint smile trans-figuring his impassive countenance. As a result of this race the Finnish Olympic funds have been enriched to the extent of £400. It was so like Nurmi that he should give the whole proceeds back to the sport he loved so much rather than take them as a benefit for himself.

Although now thirty-eight years of age and absent from serious competition since his suspension in 1931, Nurmi retired with nine world records to his credit. In his time he broke practically every record from the one to ten miles.

Although his reticence could have been wrongly construed, it was modesty rather than arrogance which made him so sphinx-like. He was always the perfect sportsman and was well loved by the Finnish nation.

When he was suspended in 1931 by the I.A.A.F. for allegedly infringing the rules governing the amateur status, there was an outcry in Finland. Every effort was made to get him reinstated and it was pointed out time and time again that even if the amateur rules had been contravened they were broken not for personal gain but for the benefit of athletics in his country.

He commenced his career, which lasted twenty-three years, with a race over 3,000 metres at the age of fifteen and it was decided that he should end it by one over the same distance.

INTRODUCED SYSTEM

Nurmi was the first man to introduce running to time as against an opponent, and to carry a watch in his hand for this purpose. "I'll bet that cost him a new watch" was the comment of the spectators when Nurmi came an awful purler at the water jump in the steeplechase at the 1928 Olympic Games at Amsterdam and was completely immersed.

It seemed that that was the only time during his whole career that his unruffled imperturbability left him. Born at Turku, the ancient capital of Finland, on June 13, 1897, Paavo Johannes Nurmi was educated at the local board school. He developed a passion for running when not yet in his teens.

At the age of ten he lost his father and became the breadwinner of his family, his mother, a brother and two sisters.

His first international event was the Olympic Games of 1920 at Antwerp, where he won the 10,000 metres and cross country race and was second in the 5,000 metres.

In 1924 in the Olympics at Paris Nurmi, in a terrific heat wave, staggered the world by turning in some sensational times and world records for the longer distance events when other competitors were literally almost dying from the gruelling heat.

He won four events, an Olympic record for an individual athlete—the 1,500 metres, 5,000 metres, 10,000 metres and cross country race.

At Amsterdam, where his duels with his fellow-countryman, Willie Dittola, were one of the features of the games, he won the 10,000 metres and was second in the 5,000 metres and steeplechase.

Then in 1931 came his suspension and with it cessation from international athletics.

Finland and the athletic world will be a great deal poorer for his retirement from the spectacle point of view, but it will probably be richer in the end.

Set with the self-imposed task of coaching the present and future Olympic teams of Finland, it is certain that for many years his successors will bear the hall-mark of "My most cherished memories, however, are those of a tournament at the opening of the Walton Heath Club in 1903 and winning the Belgium open championship in 1920 when I was nearly fifty years of age. Not even my most successful rivals can equal that."

"It is pleasant to look back on a lifetime spent at the game and reflect how conditions have changed in professional golf. When I was first apprenticed I remember telling my mother that I could not stay in the business, but I persevered and have done my bit, I think, in raising the standard of professionalism."

The eggs of sturgeons are not taken for caviar when the female is ready to spawn, but at an earlier period, when the roe is hard. A large female may yield as much as fifteen gallons, or 2,400,000 eggs. Because the sturgeon is such a valuable prize, it is becoming very rare.

A. J. Brooks Only Conservative Elected in Province; Only 138 Majority
Canadian Press
St. John's, N.B., Oct. 15.—A majority of 138 votes in Royal was all that prevented Liberals from sweeping every one of the ten seats in New Brunswick in yesterday's federal election.
The successful Conservative, A. J. Brooks, finds himself alone among twenty-five Liberals in the three Maritime provinces. The nine Conservative candidates defeated in New Brunswick include Hon. R. B. Bennett, Minister of Trade and Commerce, who lost out in York-Sunbury by 159 votes. The successful Liberal in that constituency, W. G. Clark, polled 9,195.

Second C.C.F. In Saskatchewan
Canadian Press
Regina, Oct. 15.—The C.C.F. party elected its second member to the House of Commons from Saskatchewan at noon to-day, when E. J. Young, former Liberal member, conceded election to Rev. T. C. Douglas in Weyburn constituency.
Mr. J. Coldwell, Saskatchewan C.C.F. leader, elected in Roseburg-Biggar, is the other party representative in the province who will go to Ottawa along with sixteen Liberals, two Social Credit members and one Conservative.

MAJORITY OF ONE AT POLLS
Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Oct. 15.—By a margin of only one vote, E. F. Willis retained Souris constituency for the Conservatives, complete figures on yesterday's balloting showed to-day.
Mr. Willis polled 4,507 to the 4,506 garnered by George Macdonald, Liberal candidate. The C.C.F. and Reconstruction Party candidates were never in the fight, both candidates losing their deposits.
The result in Souris was the closest recorded in the election. It was expected there would be a recount.

The ancient city of Troy was built on top of eight other cities. Excavations showed the nine cities, each built on the ruins of its predecessor, the first dating back to the late Stone Age.

Dismiss Two "Kidnappers"
Court Finds Longshoremen Acted Properly in Taking Youth in Charge
The "kidnapping" charge against two of four working longshoremen who were alleged to have forcibly seized and confined the fifteen-year-old son of one of the Victoria striking longshoremen, was dismissed in the City Police Court this morning by Magistrate Jay.
The court commended the two men charged with seizing the boy for restraining themselves from giving the lad a whipping after he had called them objectionable names such as "scab" and "rat" both before and during the court hearing.

The men charged were: Jack Harris, Hugo Tews, Clifford Eastwood and Thomas Sullivan. The first two named were charged with seizing the boy and the last two named with confining him. It was considered likely the charge of confining would be dropped, unless the father of the boy retained counsel to proceed with the prosecution.
When the court announced its decision in the Harris-Tews matter, C. L. Harrison, prosecutor, stated he would not be prepared to proceed with the other charge in which the same evidence would apply.

Bank Stocks BOUND UPWARD
Local holders of Canadian bank stocks to-day watched the price of their securities bound upward as a result of the sweeping victory yesterday of the Liberals under Mackenzie King.
Bank of Nova Scotia jumped from 250 yesterday to 255-257 to-day; Commerce from 14 1/2 yesterday to 150 to-day; Montreal from 174 yesterday to 180 to-day; Dominion from 155 to 165.
Financial houses explained the sharp rise was attributable to the feeling of restored confidence that swept the country this morning with the results of the voting. They said the country, now that Mackenzie King had complete control, independent of all other parties, felt relief at being freed from the possibility of domination at the hands of radicals or extremists. They also said that a business recovery in Canada which would be in the interests of the banks as well as other business was expected to follow the inauguration of the Liberal policy of freeing and opening up trade as contrasted with the policies in vogue for the last five years of restricting trade.

effect, had been what the two accused did.
"These men acted with great restraint. Some men would have lost their tempers and given the boy a good thrashing," Magistrate Jay said. "I think they acted properly. It is evident that this boy and others are using these offensive terms and it is time they stopped. Abuse is no argument and no purpose is served by their actions. I hope it will be stopped."

SEVEN KILLED IN CRASH
Buenos Aires, Oct. 15 (Associated Press).—Seven persons were killed and nine injured, at least one seriously, when a heavy truck, loaded with iron bars, crashed into an omnibus carrying sixteen passengers, to-day, on the highway connecting Buenos Aires and La Plata City.

Times Election Service Scores

Newsgathering forces of Canada, combined with election officials, telephone, telegraph and other communication agencies to give the public the finest service it has ever had in the tabulation of Dominion election returns.
With eastern polls closing several hours earlier, depending on their time belts, the general result as far west as Manitoba was clearly indicated by 6 o'clock, the hour at which voting ceased in Victoria.
As the clock moved on, the story of the Liberal landslide came tumbling in with one province after another swinging to Mr. Mackenzie King's banner.
In a desire to give as full and complete a picture as possible to the Victoria public the Times instituted a four-day service in making known the returns.

HEADS LOCAL MEDICAL MEN
Election of Dr. S. G. Kenning as President of Association Announced
Dr. S. G. Kenning has been elected president of the Victoria Medical Society for the coming year. It was announced last night. The election took place recently at a banquet held at the Empress Hotel.
Other officers named by the association were: Vice-president, Dr. J. S. McCallum; secretary, Dr. A. B. Nash; treasurer, Dr. P. A. C. Couland; and library committee, Dr. W. E. Mitchell, Dr. A. W. Fraser and Dr. C. A. Watson.
At the same meeting, Dr. E. C. Hart gave an address on "The Early History of Medical Practice in Victoria."

Plans Made to Greet Garner
Vice-president of United States Will Be Entertained in Victoria To-morrow
Appreciation of the arrangements made to welcome to Victoria the vice-president of the United States, John N. Garner, and a large party of senators and representatives and prominent newsmen, who will spend several hours here before sailing to the Orient aboard the liner President Jefferson, has been received by officials in the city.
The party will arrive here about 6 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, and will be welcomed by government, civic and business leaders. The visitors will be taken for a drive about the city and will be entertained at dinner at the Empress Hotel before returning to their ship for the Pacific crossing.
They are going to Manila to take part in the formal inauguration ceremonies of the new Philippine Commonwealth, and to witness the installation of Manuel Quezon as president.

Works on Cure For Diabetes
Dr. A. F. Di Valvasone Tells of Possibilities of New Treatment
Reticient about his work "because it is too early yet to say anything definite," yet confident that he has developed a possible cure for one of the greatest scourges of the modern world, Dr. A. F. Di Valvasone landed here from the American Mail liner President Jefferson when he arrived from the Orient shortly after noon to-day.
For seventeen years Dr. Di Valvasone has been working on a treatment for diabetes, chiefly experimenting alone in a clinic in Shanghai. The treatment has shown remarkable results.
In contrast to insulin, which serves only to keep the sugar content of the blood down, and has to be injected at frequent intervals to do so, Dr. Di Valvasone believes that his treatment may completely remove the cause of disease, the excessive development of the sugar content.
In Shanghai several hundreds of subjects have been treated, and many are now waiting about in excellent health without having to have recourse to the use of insulin.
In one case a subject who had previously been taking the exceptionally high dosage of eighty-four units of insulin had been able to dispense with it inside a period of four months.
Dr. Di Valvasone is proceeding to Vancouver. He will travel across Canada on his way to London, where he hopes to carry out the concluding stages of his research with greater facilities at hand.

TO PUBLISH FINDINGS
He stated this afternoon that he expected to publish a full statement of the results of his treatment in from four to six months' time.
Dr. Di Valvasone warned against the danger of over-publicizing potential cures for diabetes, as for cancer, before they had been fully proven. In many cases the doctor working on the treatment was so deluged with inquiries that his work was seriously hampered, and also received publicity which greatly misrepresented the scope of the effectiveness of his discovery.
Diabetes, he said, ranked as one of the great scourges of humanity, taking a yearly toll mounting into hundreds of thousands.
Sir Frederick G. Banting of Toronto, by his discovery of insulin, had saved loss of human life mounting into millions annually.
Dr. Di Valvasone has also spent several years working on a treatment for paralysis, which he claims is revolutionary. He refused, however, to divulge anything more on this subject.

Declarer Makes Sure of His Contract by Refusing to Ruff First Three Cards Played

By Wm. E. McKENNEY

This is the fifth of a series of six articles by midwestern champions who will attend the first Detroit American Bridge League master point tournament, Oct. 17 to 20.

"She plays a man's game of bridge." This reference to a woman's game of bridge usually marks her as an outstanding player. Miss Charlotte Sidway of Buffalo will head the Buffalo delegation to the Detroit tournament and that can well be said of her game.

Usually in any tournament in which Miss Sidway participates you will find that she is one of the chief contenders. She perhaps has won more championships in Buffalo than any other one player, either man or woman.

Miss Sidway always gives a great deal of thought before playing to the first trick, which is acknowledged the most important trick in bridge.

The careless player in to-day's hand might quickly ruff West's opening lead of the king of hearts, but to do so spells defeat for the contract.

Remember that contract is only for odd. You can lose three tricks. However, to make your contract, you must take ten tricks.

It seems reasonable to count five club tricks, one diamond trick, and four sure spade tricks. If you ruff the first heart trick, and the trumps are divided four-two, your opponents will have control of the trump.

Declarer, therefore, refused to ruff the first heart and discarded a diamond. When West continued with the queen of hearts, another diamond was discarded.

When the ace of hearts was played, South again refused to ruff, discarding the third diamond.

Now, of course, if West continued with a heart, it would be ruffed in dummy.

By sacrificing the first three tricks, the declarer was certain of making her contract. Regardless of what West now led, declarer would get in.

take four rounds of trump, picking up all the outstanding trumps, and then cash the five clubs and the ace of diamonds.

Today's Contract Problem

This is the last of six problem hands presented by midwestern champions. The contract is four hearts by West. South had opened the bidding with one diamond. Taking into consideration the opening lead, West can get a perfect count on the hand and make a play that will give him his contract, unless South offsets this strategy with a clever defensive play.

FINE CAST AT THE DOMINION

Fritz Kortner, Adrienne Ames and Nils Asther Play in "Abdul the Damned"

Showing to-day at the Dominion Theatre, "Abdul the Damned," which is one of the greatest and most lavish films which B.I.P. has ever made, tells the story of Abdul Hamid II, Sultan of Turkey, last of the tyrants who was eventually deposed for extreme cruelty to his subjects. One of the most vicious and cunning men who ever lived, he had men exiled or executed on the slightest pretext, until the Young Turks rebelled, rose up in arms, and finally Abdul himself was banished.

It is this part of his life which the B.I.P. film depicts. It reveals the cloak of mystery which surrounds much of the intrigue which was rife around the court of Abdul, and shows the various happenings which led up to the rebellion of the Young Turks.

Fritz Kortner plays the role of Abdul Hamid, a part which gives this great actor the opportunity to display his forceful acting, an opportunity of which he takes full advantage, giving one of the most brilliant screen performances witnessed for many a day.

Adrienne Ames, one of Hollywood's loveliest and best-dressed stars, is Theresa, an Austrian dancer and singer, whilst the magnificent cast also includes such well-known names as John Stuart, Esmé Percy, Charles Carson, Alfred Woods, Annie Reardon, Clifford Heatherly, H. Saxon, Snell, Patric Knowles, Frederick and Walter Rilla and Robert Naylor.

Also being shown on the same programme are James Dunn and Rosina Lawrence in "Welcome Home."

"LOHENGGRIN" WELL LOVED

One of Wagner's Most Popular Works to Be Heard at Royal Starting Friday

"Lohengrin," which is to be produced by the Victoria Civic Opera Society, at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Friday and Saturday evening, is probably the best loved of all the Wagnerian operas.

In the second act, which opens upon a scene in the inner court of the palace at night, Frederick Tamaramund and his wife, Ortrud, are heard revelling each other for their unhappy plight. Frederick accuses Ortrud of inventing the story of Elsa's crime, and they proceed in a long duet

New Highs Reached In Active Trading On Wall Street Mart

Associated Press
New York, Oct. 15.—Led by selected industrials, stocks forged ahead with renewed vigor to-day, many issues reaching new highs for the year or longer with gains of 1 to 3 or more points.

Heavy profit-taking at the start was absorbed without much difficulty. The rails and steel, backward for a while, later joined the climbers. The close was strong, transfers approximated 2,500,000 shares.

It was the liveliest session in more than a month. In the early push the ticker tape dropped behind floor transactions. Effects of several thousand shares changed hands at various times. Short covering, as well as new buying, helped the upward thrust. Fresh short selling was also noted in scattered equities.

There was some more realizing in shares near the finish, but it did not dislodge prices to any great extent. Among the best gainers were Union Pacific, Western Union, Air Reduction, Owens-Illinois, Low's, Chrysler, General Motors, Auburn, Electric Auto-Lite, U.S. Steel, National Steel, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Santa Fe, N.Y. Central, Great Northern, Delaware and Hudson and Pennsylvania.

New Motorship Visits Coast

Ms. Nordstjernan of Johnson Line Reaches Seattle on Maiden Voyage

Seattle, Oct. 15.—Seattle had an interesting visitor to-day, the new Swedish motor liner Nordstjernan (North Star), first unit of a new fleet of four ships built in Gothenburg by the Johnson Line for service between this port and Europe and the United Kingdom.

The Nordstjernan arrived early yesterday morning from Gothenburg via Coast ports on her maiden voyage and went to a berth at the Bell Street Terminal of the Port Commission.

At noon yesterday an informal luncheon and reception were held aboard the Nordstjernan for Seattle shippers and passenger agents, with Capt. C. O. Holmberg, master of the new vessel, and W. D. Vanderbilt, Northwest manager for W. R. Grace & Co., agents for the Johnson Line, as hosts.

CAPTAIN WELL KNOWN

Captain Holmberg was commander of the Johnson liner Annie Johnson for eight years and is well known on this coast.

A sister ship of the Nordstjernan, the Argentina, passed through the Panama Canal Saturday en route from Gothenburg to Seattle on her maiden voyage. She is due here November 10. The Annie Johnson, Captain Holmberg's old ship, sailed from Gothenburg October 8 for Seattle and is due in this port November 24.

SIXTEEN KNOTS

The Brazil and Uruguay, the other two ships built for the Johnson Line in Sweden, will be sent to Seattle and other ports on this coast at the opening of the fruit shipping season next year.

The Nordstjernan is 440 feet long, 55.5 feet beam and is capable of maintaining a sea speed of sixteen knots. The vessel has refrigerator capacity for 45,000 boxes of fruit and de luxe accommodation for twelve passengers. She is loading for London and Scandinavian ports.

In order to make connections with the day trains from Chicago, including the fast afternoon trains, the time of departure has been set back from 6:30 p.m. to 7:35 p.m. for St. Paul, and from 7:05 p.m. to 8:10 p.m. for Minneapolis.

Under the new arrangement passengers can leave Chicago as late as 1 o'clock in the afternoon and be in Winnipeg at 8:50 o'clock the next morning.

The Great Northern recently added a new type of air-conditioned cars to its Winnipeg Limited. These compact sleeping quarters, dressing rooms, kitchen, dining facilities and an observation lounge into one steel Pullman. The train also carries air-conditioned Pullmans.

MUCH GOLD IS SHIPPED

Gold Shipments From Alaska This Year Expected to Exceed That of Other Years

Anchorage, Alaska, Oct. 15.—Gold from the last spring cleanups of the season is traveling by sky and land and water from Alaska's interior to ports for shipment to the United States Army Office in Seattle.

As yet no accurate estimate of the Territory's gold production is available, but reports from the Yukon, Tanana, Kuskokwim, Koyukuk and other districts indicate the output for 1935 will exceed in both weight and dollar value that of most previous years.

The shipments are coming to the coast by airplane, the Alaska Railroad and river boat. The gold will be placed aboard steamers sailing for the south.

Moderate weather has permitted operations to run late into the fall and some placer mines will operate until the cold finally closes them. Drag-line operations have contributed to increasing the output and new dredges have been installed on some grounds.

Captains and crews of river boats are arriving daily by boat and plane preparatory to going south for the winter. Their river boats have been placed in winter quarters.

LOADING LUMBER

The French steamship San Francisco, Capt. L. Rouille, is to-day at Ogden Point loading 250,000 feet of Vancouver Island lumber for European destination. She came in this morning at 2:30 o'clock from Vancouver and will leave late this afternoon for San Francisco, en route to France.

The San Francisco is a sister ship to the San Jose, San Diego and San Antonio. She has a length of 451 feet, a beam of fifty-two feet and is registered at 7,561 tons. She has a speed of fourteen knots.

VANCOUVER SHIPPING

Vancouver, Oct. 15.—Ms. California Express of the Fruit Express Line, has arrived at Seattle, B.C. and will load considerable British Columbia cargo, including thirty-one carloads of apples.

With 378 passengers from Alaska for debarkation at Seattle, Ms. Alaska of the Alaska Steamship Co. arrived Saturday night to American Mail Line with frozen fish for the Canadian Fishing Co. Ltd. Next Saturday the steamer Yukon will arrive with another large parcel of halibut for the fishing company warehouses.

INTEGRATING THE UNITED KINGDOM

Service of the Knutsen Line (Canada Shipping Co. Ltd.), Ms. Nyhorn, Captain P. Omundsen, arrived over the week-end and went to Burrard Drydock Co. for heavy weather damage repairs, three bottom plates having been punctured out of shape in an Atlantic gale. She arrived from Chile and will load for Glasgow, Belfast and Manchester with several thousand tons of lumber, doors, fish oil, broom handles, apples and wheat. The new Knutsen service is to be maintained by the motorships Nyhorn, John Bakke and Samuel Bakke. The John Bakke is due November 15.

QUEEN PROCEEDS ON HER VOYAGE

Seattle, Oct. 15.—Coastguard headquarters yesterday evening reported the crippled steamship Queen, bound for Osaka, Japan, had made temporary repairs to a broken cylinder and was steaming toward Honolulu.

Distress signals were flashed by the Queen Saturday stating she had broken down 400 miles from Honolulu. The coastguard cutter Itasca, off Honolulu, relayed the Queen's message after picking it up from the steamship Monowai.

The fifty-three-year-old Queen, formerly operated by the Pacific Steamship Company, left Seattle September 30 with a crew of twenty Japanese and 1,100 tons of scrap steel aboard.

The Queen, bought by Japanese interests, was to be scrapped at Osaka.
